Dedication

In memory of Judge B. F. McCann, whom to know was to love, and whose zeal and ardor have stamped him as a true son of Denison, the Junior Class dedicates this book.

Judge B. F. McCann, A. M.

Foreword

To mirror in the paths of memory with pen and lens the college year of 1924-25; to record for all time the happenings within our college halls; to offer this volume as a tangible memory of college days has been our purpose.

Features

*Careless of time—the years that all too fast
Whirl us along from youth to age, it seems,
Some caught within a book those fleeting dreams,
Captured and bound an image of the past.
Thus worthy hours we spent within the walls
We love so well, and as we close the door
Yet lingers fragrance—like when all is done—
The ghost of happy days at Denison.*

ADMINISTRATION

A little learning is a dangerous thing;
Drink deep, or taste not the Pierian spring.
—Pope

ADMINISTRATION

All the college is a stage and all the “eds” and “semites” are players—they enter and exit. Their roles are long or short, tragic or humorous, and each plays them in his own way. The master director, prompter, and scene shifter is Administration. Under this jurisdiction falls new bulbs for lights, weeds on the lawns, and recalcitrant students who fail to leave college in the “usual way.”

Like an ancient monarch, like a modern executive, the absolute power of this branch is eyed with envy by seekers of dominance. Many a student has been filched of his “very rights” and many another has had some rationalism implanted in his life all to the credit or blame of the administrators.

To keep the faculty and student cogs of this great educational machine in constant mesh and perfect order requires the skill of an engineering genius. Replacing broken parts, and oiling “squeaking joints” as well as directing the flow of supply and meeting the demand of the world, involves methods and tact that many college students do not comprehend.

Those who guide us are more than teachers and administrators, and the relation between the Denison faculty and the student body is one of understanding and mutual benefit. The past year has been a most severe test of this cooperation, but it has weathered the storm and Denison can well be proud of the triumph.

THE YEAR'S ADVANCE

The college year, 1924-25, is marked by the completion of the building plan for Chapel Hill, the third of the seven hills on which Denison is being built, and the construction of two of the ten dormitories for women on the first hill. The enrollment has passed the thousand mark and the selection of students from the list of applicants has raised the standard of scholarship, already a high one. Theta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa reports the highest scholarship in the Senior and Junior classes recorded in its history.

Funds originally intended for a gymnasium have been turned by the donor into the endowment fund, thus making it possible to hold strong men on our faculty and attract others to it. Enthusiasm, cooperation and energy will crown our seven hills with a completed Denison.

Graduates of the University are members of the Society of the Alumni. Former students of the Granville institutions who are not graduates, recipients of honorary degrees, members of the Board of Trustees, and members of the faculty who have been such for at least three years, are received into membership upon payment of the annual dues.

Denison Alumni Clubs have been established in the following localities: New York City, Washington, Rochester, Buffalo, Cleveland, Toledo, Detroit, Dayton, Springfield, Cincinnati, Columbus, Indianapolis, Chicago, Minnesota, Missouri Valley, Colorado, San Francisco, Southern California, Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Knox County, Iowa, Norwalk, Japan and West China.

ASHER K. MATHER

Recorder of the University

If you are looking for the man who can answer your question, solve your problem, or tell you how many points you are making, here he is. His jobs are so many and varied that they cannot be mentioned here. Keeping the records is his primary task and he does it with a systematic precision.

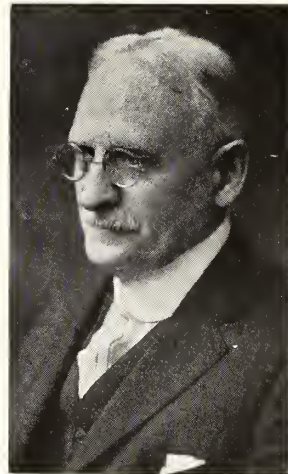

Mr. Mather can straighten out a schedule difficulty with ease. His office is always busy and some of his early mornings are spent answering rush calls of every description. His very position demands tolerance and a wealth of human understanding and Mr. Mather has a goodly share of each.

MR. E. E. HOPKINS

Treasurer of the University

Treasurer Hopkins is a man who handles a big job, and does it in a big way. Besides taking care of all University expenses he attends to the housing of Academy and University students in old Talbot, besides managing the book exchange. His pleasing wit and human understanding have made his office a cheery place despite its business atmosphere.

His responsibilities have fitted him for even greater ones and any task, large or small, is properly handled by this Denison man of finance. Solving the financial problem in any University would require a man of keen intellect, patience, and kindness. Mr. Hopkins has all of these.

PROF. C. D. COONS

Business Manager of the University

Professor Coons is business manager of the college executive staff and his duties include the care and maintenance of all the college buildings and grounds. The yearly growth of the University enlarges his duties, and his is a busy job.

Besides his business duties he has served very ably on the Athletic Board of Control as well as several other offices. You will always find him kind and cordial and more than willing to help.

CLARENCE M. EDDY

Secretary of the University

Mr. Eddy is one of the men who sits behind a big desk and keeps the wheels of education moving here. His duties are many and varied. The catalogue and pictorial bulletin are supervised by him. All matters pertaining to entrance requirements and graduation fall under his jurisdiction. He has conducted a very successful publicity program for the University.

As the man with a big smile, large personality, and ready hand he has won favor with the students. Always ready to counsel and help, his unflagging zeal and genuine Denison spirit have made him a successful secretary.

DR. H. RHODES HUNDLEY

Dean of Doane Academy

The fine record of Doane Academy has been due in no small measure to the untiring efforts of "Doc" Hundley. He has guided many generations of students from the preparatory stage into the halls of college learning. His personal influence has left its stamp upon the lives of Doane students. With emphasis upon the three sides, mental, physical, and spiritual, he has built up within the walls of Old Doane an atmosphere that can justly boast of having given Denison some of its finest students. He has ably filled a place as scholar, teacher, and administrator.

MRS. CLARA T. BRUMBACK

Principal of Shepardson College

When it comes to allotting difficult tasks surely the one held by Mrs. Brumback falls into the category of the most difficult. As head of Shepardson College, with its multitude of rules, and closely checked life, she does not hold an envious position. Calendar duties, social function registering, and all the cares of a women's deanship are transacted within the four walls of her tiny office.

Mrs. Brumback has served Denison for many years. When mention is made of leaders in the field of Women's deans her name is bound to rank with those who have contributed many years of work and service to this trying position.

CLASS OF 1926

OFFICERS

President ----- HAROLD JAMES

Treasurer ----- ROBERT FRASCH

LESTER MAYES

Commons Club

Lincoln, Neb.

This quiet but genial lad from the Nebraskan prairies has brought with him to Granville a touch of western good humor and wholesome good will. 'Tis true that since the graduation of a certain semite his thoughts do not linger very long at one stretch among the fair hills of Licking County. However, ad interim, we appreciate the pleasant smile he gives and the wholehearted manner he shows.

LAURA RICHARDSON

Sigma Delta Phi

Cincinnati, O.

Horatio Alger wrote a book called "Struggling Upward". We are not sure whether it was a sketch on travel to the Phi Delt house by Lincoln and Laura, or the journeys up the same hill to another Greek lettered house. Larry has her say on all three publications. We hear that she recently wrote a poem entitled "After the Ball Was Over". We did not think that she was a poet, but her various abilities already known will permit us to believe she could even celebrate events in verse. Larry's sheepskin and "Big Red" hose mark her as one ready to accept modern custom.

MAXWELL DOUGLAS

Phi Gamma Delta

Frazeysburg, O.

Doug earned his glory on the basketball court. He has a gift for looping them through the loop in a most uncanny fashion. As a first baseman, the baseball team wants no better. How a freckled youth can come from out of the wilds of Central Ohio and step into collegiate fame is a story that can best be told by Douglas. His army uniform, and oiled hair always score heavy at the sem.

MARY MARGARET HOWARD

Chi Psi Delta

Newark, O.

Peg is one of the "grand old girls" of Denison, as she was in the Academy too. After eating sem hamburger for seven years she is as happy and peppy as ever. She can paint anything from Y posters to sunsets, but specializes in Kappa Sig crests and astronomy, particularly crescents and stars. And she is some cook, too.

SAMUEL DAVIS

Sigma Chi

Cincinnati, O.

Salesman Sam, writer, roamer, and lover. A youth of adventure who met his first ups and downs in Cincinnati. His coffee sales gave him that prosperous air. His editorship gave him that drowsy look. His roaming supplied the necessary experience, while his love affair gave him ample reason to look for other things in the mail besides the Dean's notices and bank overdrawals.

NORMA JOHNSON

Sigma Delta Phi

Washington, D. C.

Talk about pep! Norma certainly has a supply of it. She is keenly interested in everything from Browning to politics, so no matter what mood you happen to be entertaining just tell "Norm" and she will help you out. And she has a pair of blue eyes. Well—look at them once and you'll do it twice. Norma came to us from Wells this year. If they have any more like her, we will be glad to take them.

JOHN A. WEAVER

Commons Club

Greeley, Col.

We have often been told that out in the wooley west things grow a little longer and one look at Jawhn proves it. He falls into the categorical index under the title of pre-medic. If he can carve humans like he did a certain heart he is assured of fame and fortune. A quiet, unassuming lad from the west; eager to learn, fond of most anything especially sleep and always ready to help—that's John.

HELEN FOSS

Kappa Phi

Chicago, Ill.

The stories of black-eyed susans and the tales of Spanish señoritas pale before this quiet charming lassie from the Windy City. Helen seems to move from place to place like a fairy. Always ready to have a good time, equally ready to work, or help another, she has built up for herself the reputation of being one of Denison's real girls. When the "We found the place boys" serenade the candle which flickers in her window tells the story of her "extra curricula" activities.

KENNETH BREEZE

Phi Gamma Delta

Granville, O.

Yes, he is known as Windy or just Ken or sometimes to his most intimate playmates as Curly. He shakes a wicked pen or brush and is able to draw anything from a "deep breath" to a "check". It is rumored he causes his brothers untold inconvenience and even embarrassment by his boisterous manner on and off the streets of our city. He obtained and holds his rosy cheeks by the famous "Palmolive" method. He keeps the curl in his hair by sleeping on the family washboard.

RUTH SEARS

Sigma Delta Phi

Ashland, O.

Mickey only came to the Licking Hills this year, but we wish she had come sooner. She went to Ashland College for two years, but could not resist us any longer. She's very dainty and petite, but her brains are as big as any football hero. And her voice sounds like nothing so much as a bubbling fountain. The Junior Revue bears witness to the fact that she was quite an addition to the Junior Class.

ELEANOR REED

Phi Phi Phi

Springfield, O.

We knew her middle name was Pansy, only we couldn't quite figure out why until she looked our way. However, there are unsuspected depths behind her "baby stare". Religion and athletic pursuits claim most of her attention, but she gets good grades too. Petey insists she is going to be a missionary, but here's a wager—that when Springfield cars start running by the clock instead of by calendar, she'll be - - - yes, like all the rest.

GERALD S. WELLMAN

Lambda Chi Alpha

Granville, O.

Jerry is always on the job. If there is anything to be done—he'll do it and do it well. Versatility is his maiden name. Between witty remarks you can hear the tinkle of his Phi Bet key, for he has mixed business and pleasure in perfect style. Girls? Yes, only the other day he broke down and admitted that "Somebody loves me". Jerry can knock a tennis ball over any house in town and we are told he took a tournament cup out Lam Chi way.

MARIAN CANRIGHT

Shepardson Club

Haskins, O.

Many of us have not become as well acquainted with Marian as we wish we might. But she certainly is interesting; ask any of her real close friends. And the mean twinkle in her eye proves it, too. Having a good time seems to be essential to Marian's existence. Go right ahead; we won't stop you.

STUART C. HINCKLEY

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lakewood, O.

Hink is another one who hails from that notorious rendezvous of good-bad men, Lakewood. Although he would only have to say the word and the whole sem would rush him, he likes to keep his preferred stock in Milligan's Cottage. Keeping in training for the long winter sessions of bridge, etc., by hauling ice all summer, is Hinckley's hobby. Labor sure scored a triumph when our hero was made prexy at the Lam Chi house and wielded a husky gavel at the Pan-hell sessions.

ALICE McCANN

Chi Psi Delta

Dayton, O.

We don't know quite where to begin on Al—one could write volumes about her. Being one of the best liked girls in college hasn't made a bit of difference to Al—she's always the same big "peach". (We'd say more about this, but she would never forgive us). Not having enough to do as vice president of our class she has been active in Y. W. work. The meetings she leads are not easily forgotten.

HAROLD JORDAN Commons Club Granville, O.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said,
Upon the campus "Why good Lord! There goes Jordan in his Ford!"

Yes, Harold and his pneumatic playmate are familiar figures in Denison and its environs. Yet we can't help but reflect that our friend has not fully developed his Henry's latent talent as a social asset. It is rumored that a "girl back in the Kansas wheatfield, etc., etc." Drain your goblets, boys, in honor of brother Jordan.

THELMA EWERS Shepardson Club Granville, O.

Thelma's talents lie along musical lines. She has a charming voice and wherever Delta Omicron or Glee Club are concerned you will find her right on the job. You don't have to do much talking when she is around. Thelma loves to talk just for the fun of it—a regular chatterbox effect. Living out in town does not give Thelma much of a chance to know the sem girls, but those who have become acquainted with her say she is good to have around.

GEORGE STIBITZ Kappa Sigma Dayton, O.

George does everything. This statement stands unqualified. George writes poetry. He paints and draws with no slight ability. George owns more hours of "A" than lots of Phi Betes. He writes music and art for the Denisonian. He is on the baseball squad and also gets in his share of "fussing". Anybody who shouts, "Let George do it" would find this George able to come through with it. He has earned the nickname of "Stability" which is just about right.

MARY FORMAN Elkhart, Ind.

Here is a walking encyclopedia. All you have to do is name the topic and Mary will proceed to unfold her wondrous stores of knowledge. Since this is her first year here, we don't know much about Mary's past history. Somehow, we feel that she has had experience in more ways than one, else how could she expound so copiously? And she won't tell her age; that's always a bad sign.

ROBERT CASE Commons Club Washington C. H.

Bob, the permanent wave advertisement. He receives all his expenses here from a well-known Newark firm. He is another one of these quiet boys who can raise more noise than the Granville Fire Department when he tears loose. "Crossly" speaking, his main attraction here is an eight letter word starting with "M".

MARGUARITE SMITH

Shepardson Club

Newark, O.

Marg is one of our Newark Commuters who helps to keep the Bus line prosperous. She has masses of lovely golden curly hair, which makes her look different from those who have the ordinary cut-off shingle. She is very quiet, but does her work very industriously and takes things seriously. When a Prof. calls on her there is no danger of a "Not Prepared", but always a good explanation ensues, albeit it comes in rather a weak voice. Evidently she takes after her Phi Bet sister!

LLOYD D. FRANCE

Kappa Sigma

New Philadelphia, O.

Lloyd D. France is not the name of a fire engine, it is the "moniker" "Frenchy's" folks started him out with. Frenchy does many notable things. The Spring is his busy season. In the Spring he plays baseball. Besides that he candy-legs. In his spare moments he has earned the nickname of "Schwantz", a title he is proud of. He modestly admits he is good but we know better. Besides telling stories to the boys on baseball trips, he shouts the praises of New Philadelphia.

LORAINNE EISZNER

Kappi Phi

Oak Park, Ill.

Lorraine comes from Oak Park, and that says a lot. She is athletic and a good student. Lorraine's dignity is truly refreshing in this day of the superfluous flapper. One knows instinctively that she will always look as if she had just stepped from a fashion show—and she wears her clothes like a queen. Lorraine's dignity is broken by her friendliness to all.

ROBERT ENGLEHART

Commons Club

Cleveland, O.

Bob is about as ambitious as we imagine Caesar or his ghost might have been. Bob has the necessary get-up about him to arrive where he started for a little while ago. Like all true Denisonians he believes "Five percent" was a low estimate and helps break the theory. He also puts out with the Glee Club. He has corralled a herd of "A's" along with other things. The band affectionately calls him "manager"

GRETCHEN DOREY

Kappa Phi

Newark, O.

Remember the Frosh Show, when Gretchen was a quaint little Dutch girl with long flaxen braids? Since then the braids have given way to a smart shingle, but the blue eyes are just the same. Most any day Gretchen can be seen dashing up hill in her black coupe, and she's very generous about picking people up. Gretchen thinks Newark a pretty good place to live.

DOROTHY FULMER

Shepardson Club

Oakdale, Pa.

We only wish we had half the brains Dot has and could get away with our work in the Classical Department so easily. The best part of it is, she is so modest and quiet about it! No one would ever dream she was looking forward to a "Phi Bet" key next year.

ROBERT CURRY

Sigma Chi

Bozeman, Mont.

"Wockle", the gentleman from Montana. While we might expect his ears to bend out from wearing his "sombbrero" the fact of the matter is they are very ordinary. This is accounted for by the fact that he nearly lives, when at the house, with the headphones of his radio set on his head. His brothers say he even studies with them on and he has been known to go to sleep in that position.

COURTNEY JACKSON

Shepardson Club

Springfield, O.

To be an individual, individual is a task. To be individual and not peculiar is another job, but Jack is all that and more. If you would sharpen your wits, or whetstone your irony, just exchange vowels with this little lady from Springfield. Just how she spends the hours we are not certain, but a desire for fun, good grades, and cheerfulness seems to be a neat recipe for helping the clock in its daily cycle.

LOUIS TILTON

Dayton, O.

Here's another disillusioned youth who thinks that Dayton is the capital of the world. Tillie is a good scout, nevertheless, and when he takes his thirty inch step on the campus in his sergeant's array of Uncle Sam's best, he leaves the impression that business is his guiding star. What his hobbies are is a mystery, but like all mysterious men his silence gives him away as being a thinker. He sports a warm heart that "Women of Shepardson" haven't noticed yet.

MARJORIE FULLERTON

Shepardson Club

Greenfield, O.

Once upon a time there was a little girl with dark, curly hair and big, brown eyes—yes, and the nicest smile—and she came to Denison so she could be in a nice class. Now Marjorie, for that was the little girl's name, was rather quiet, but only until you sat at her table and got acquainted with her. One can imagine just to look at "Marj" that she enjoys poetry and cheese dreams and all that sort of thing, not to mention curly hair that comes in a case.

MARGARET FREDERICK Phi Phi Phi Grove, W. Va.

Here is the best advertisement for Ivory soap you could hope to find any place. Even Venus herself could not boast of a better complexion. In fact, we look at Peg with wonder and say, "We don't see how she does it."

Peg is a very calm and steady sort of girl. We're sure she would know just what to do if one of those fire-drills in King Hall should turn out to be a real fire. Although the majority of people see Peg only on the serious side.

HAROLD FARBER Commons Club Stryker, O.

You have seen the man who goes his way apparently satisfied with all the world and takes each day for what it is worth. Here he is, wearing that same contented expression. Harold works, and works hard, finding something new in each task and is always ready for more. He can easily be classified as a friend to all in need. Being of a rather serious turn of mind you seldom can catch him up to anything, but his roommate confided in us that Farber talks in his sleep.

RACHAEL REED Phi Phi Phi Springfield, O.

Saxophones, oboes, and clarinets all have reeds, and so do the Tri Phi's. Ray is one of these silent colleagues who lends a willing hand to every task. What her hobbies are—we don't know. How she spends her time—we don't know. What she likes best—we don't know. What ever the answers to these questions may be, her sisters in the bond well know the value of a girl like Rachel.

RAYMOND NETHERS Alpha Theta Sigma Frazeysburg, O.

The world is filled with all kinds of people, and among the many we find those like Nethers who are on the job from day to day, inconspicuous, but there just the same. Jake is sort of a mystery man to many of us and we don't know his favorite likes or haunts. Down at the Alpha house he eats his share of victuals and pays his bills. He is a profound believer in the theory that "war is a nice game, played by nice boys", so he ranks as a shining sergeant in the R. O. T. C.

HELEN PEASE Shepardson Club Johnstown, O.

Harry Lauder, the worthy exponent of matutinal lethargy, or "but it's nicer to stay in bed", has a faithful disciple in this rural queen from Johnstown. Helen just hates to catch the seven-thirty bus. But once she has downed her daily tepid cackle-berries, she can out-talk anybody.

HERMAN RICE

Granville, O.

"Local talent" that's the shingle we would hang on this swarthy son of the soil. Whether he ever has a hand in any of the town boy's pranks we don't know for he is always well behaved on the hill. Herman is a corking good example of the type of humans known as those who work and work hard for all they get. After he leaves the hill his retirement to the protecting roof of his paternal relation keeps us from getting the inside dope on him.

MARTHA GAMBRILL

Pittsburgh, Pa.

When we asked what we should say about her in the Adytum, she began to laugh—and, well, you know that laugh of Martha's! We simply couldn't help joining in—it's such an infectious chuckle! Consequently we didn't find out very much about her except that she adores blue, and chocolate candy, Fords, yes, and music, which we suspected privately ever since we heard her play the piano.

HAROLD JAMES

Kappa Sigma

Youngstown, O.

Spud is our living example of the all-round man. As a leader of various organizations and groups on the campus he has proven his worth. Steering the Glee Club across the troubled seas of "non-support" was just one of his many triumphs. The Junior class couldn't have had a better president if they had wielded the scissors and designed the pattern themselves.

FLORENCE SMALLEY

Shepardson Club

Irwin, Pa.

Musical, athletic and a real friend—that is "Taut". She has the title of being one of the most democratic girls on the campus. She is always busy, but never too occupied when some of her friends wish to have a chat with her. Although taking full college and conservatory courses, Taut has time for outside activities. As secretary of the Junior class, she has made an able representative. The success of the annual review was partly due to Taut's efforts.

PAUL HENDERSON

Kappa Sigma

Norwalk, O.

Paul says he is mad, but we say he is not. Can you imagine pleasant, easy-going Paul mad at anything or anybody? Of course not, neither can we. But Paul insists that should we make any reference to his numerous love affairs it will be all the worse for us. As we watch him carry his husky bulk over the campus with his characteristic good natured stride, we feel ashamed to take advantage of him.

PRISCILLA TARR

Chi Psi Delta

Mt. Vernon, O.

Priscilla came to us from Oberlin this year and we are mighty glad to have such an addition. She has a certain dignity about her which is very becoming to her type. But that really is nothing against her, since dignity gives charm to any woman. Her best friends say that she is not all stateliness, though. We hope Priscilla will be back for another year, for we feel that she fills a place that no one else could quite so well.

JAMES EARPS

Commons Club

Allison Park, Pa.

Jimmy do this; Jimmy do that; and Jimmy does 'em all. Yes, James is a busy man, being one whose activities off-campus are as numerous as those he performs within the wide realm of college extra-curricula. Take a trip some Sunday out to the church in the Welsh Hills and hear this coming Billy Sunday tell the congregation how to live.

ELOISE CORRELL

Shepardson Club

Hicksville, O.

Eloise didn't join our ranks until the second half of our Sophomore year. However, better late than never, as the old saw goes, and in Eloise's case we are certainly glad she decided to come. Peppy and full of fun, Eloise is a real asset to the class and we like her spirit. The long and short of it is - - - you said it - - - Naomi, who entered our midst with Eloise last year.

HAROLD WEISENBARGER

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Columbus, O.

The call was too strong for this smiling youth and after a semester's absence he came back bringing his talent with him. Wisely stages the Sig Alpha circus stunts, scoops news for the Denisonian and makes himself generally useful in this neck-of-the-woods. He has yet to make his great social splurge.

GRACE JONES

Sigma Delta Phi

Springfield, O.

It would be easy to write a poem about Grace, we think. At least, we know if we did, we'd write about smiling lips and lovely laughing eyes of blue. "Hap" is a real girl; she can do everything from a crossword puzzle to a "cooking lesson", and do it in her characteristically perfect way. Grace just can't help enjoying life because she is such an ardent fun-lover. In conclusion let us say her many campus duties have not silenced her "angel voice" or lessened her interest in a certain Lam Chi.

HAYZLE FISHBURN

Mt. Vernon, O.

This is one of our newest Juniors. She went to Western Reserve for two years, then found her way towards this famous Institution of Higher Learning. (For references see any Denison Catalogue.) Hayzle has become rapidly assimilated. She listens with rapt attention to Chapel talks, keeps her golden hair marceled, and goes to the movie on Thursday night, just as well as any regular three year Denison Junior. We've decided that she is quite an addition to our class.

CHARLES FUNDABERG*Sigma Chi*

Newark, O.

"Gyp", the blond boy who drives the big green "car" around our streets and hill. He seems to have been born a manager, having taken a crack at two of our school publications. However, there is one thing on our campus he does not manage. She lives at the "Sem"—and there after a day of hard studying he often turns his weary footsteps. He is planning someday, not too far off, to enter the field of Engineering. We wish him the same success there he has had on our campus.

GERALDINE CONSTABLE*Shepardson Club*

East Cleveland, O.

Allow us to present a daughter from the renowned homeland of East Cleveland. Cleveland, you say? Ask her, there's a difference. Jerry, brought with her that amiable air that bespeaks warm friendship. Having fun, mixing study in the right amounts, and living each day for its full value constitute her platform for college.

DAHLTON KINCAID*Sigma Alpha Epsilon*

Crooksville, O.

"Words, words, words" and a few more describe this son of Southern Ohio. He can talk when all others have sore jowls, and when it comes to statistics he can't be beat. Dalt follows the sport pages like a hawk; studies in his sleep; and recites like a master of the Mexican throwing art.

Crooksville is soon to be the capital of the world according to his latest calculations. Dalt is a real booster.

CARLISTA MCMINN*Shepardson Club*

Carbondale, Ill.

This short order of feet and inches is long on scintillating vivacity—and pep. This dark-eyed sovereign of our campus ably portrays the dashing fire of modern youth. She seldom misses a party and her popularity among the "eds" is due in no small measure to her wistful glance and contagious laugh. In the next breath let us hasten to inform you that Carlie is a good student.

TRESSEL HAWKINS Lambda Chi Alpha Berlin Center, O.

Here is a fellow who can lay just claim to the biggest heart in Denison. From the standpoint of service and willingness to help he can step up and get his iron cross anytime. "Complex" as his fraternity brothers sometimes call him, is a psychological bug. He can talk neurones, paranoia, and nervous arc when dreaming. Tress has won his letter in fussing every year.

PHYLLIS CAUL Sigma Kappa Ames, Iowa

If you have ever been in a class with Phyl, you'll have learned that talking is one of her hobbies. It doesn't seem to make much difference what the topic before the house is; Phyl can dig up some bit of comment.

She left us her second year to attend Iowa State Normal College. Evidently the pull was too strong towards Granville, for she is back in full swing. Phyl is chuck-full of ideas and is a big asset when it comes to committee work. She gave generously of her dramatic abilities in working out the Junior Revue.

DONALD LESLIE Kappa Sigma Granville, O.

Don is one of the "village cut-ups". He is one of those boys who gives everybody the glad hand and works two shifts during the summer time; the gas station in the day and the assembly nights. Don was one of the leaders of the movement which tried to annex Buckeye Lake to Granville, but he and Ed Kenney finally decided to give up and start again this summer. Don writes songs, intramural'es and fusses with emphasis on the final syllable.

LOIS EVERHART Shepardson Club Middletown, O.

A nightingale couldn't sing more sweetly, nor a princess act more demure than this charming lassie. Lois can be found any place there is music, but it must be remembered that she is a real student too. The girls wouldn't like it unless we said that she was cute—so there.

ROBERT FORD Kappa Sigma Youngstown, O.

We have seen a lot of Fords ramble out of Youngstown, but none to compare with this matchless youth of "Gilbert Sigma". Bob is a youth of all trades, and he plies them all with equal ability. He never gets excited, seldom hurries, but completes the job in a pleasing manner. Bob is a good scout.

MARGARET CALLIHAN

Shepardson Club

Cambridge, O.

Margaret certainly has the combination of Irish wit and good humor. We have been told that people whose locks are of a reddish hue are inclined to be hot tempered, but here is an exception to the rule. We have never noticed anything of that sort in Marge. Living off campus has not been much of a handicap to this young lady when it comes to making friends. She has a whole troop of them who are ready to vouch for her as being "one in a hundred."

HUNTER HAYNES

Phi Delta Theta

Sandusky, O.

One night it rained in Oberlin so this chap mounted his trusty bicycle and charged manfully up the Phi Delt Hill. Welcome to our borders, Haynes. As an active member of the Denisonian staff he has earned his college glory. One other fact that cannot be overlooked is his unfailing zeal for A's.

FLORA AUSTIN

Chi Psi Delta

Painesville, O.

A girl may rejoice in the middle name of Angel, and still not have that kind of a nature. Flora was the life of North Cottage one year, then descended into King Hall. Her specialty is being just the kind of a girl you want for a best friend. She'll go to the movie with you on ten-cent nights, or trot over to Columbus. But she's very fickle and turns from Kappa Sigs to Sigs without a tremor. Fashion notes for Semites: Flora was one of the founders of the straight shingle bob!

EDWARD KUNDERT

Alpha Theta Sigma

Alpha, O.

"Ed", the quiet fellow that used to dash across the football field with the water bucket and tape. Many are the sore muscles he has pounded and rubbed, and it is said if the tape he has used was stretched out in a straight line it would reach to the ranch at Alpha, Ohio. He is rarely seen near the "Sem", as he is a charter member of the famous bachelor organization.

ANNETTA LANG

Chi Psi Delta

Detroit, Mich.

We hate to overwork the word collegiate but it does suit "Tat" so well. It isn't altogether the way she wears her sweaters, or her long bob either! She's a perfect "wiz" on the basketball floor or in a hockey game—in fact there isn't much in the way of athletics Tat isn't out for. Just inquire of the gym department where Tat assists and let 'em tell you. Course we'd expect her to be interested in athletics, too, but isn't it a coincidence that Tat and "Tommy" both begin with "T"?

IRIS KNIGHT

Shepardson Club

Charleston, W. Va.

Here's a plain little girl with a fine southern air that bespeaks hospitality. Her "Hello" is breathed with a welcome note and her poetry that often finds its way into the Flamingo carries a distinct, dainty touch. West Virginia can send us more daughters and rest assured that we'll like them.

ROE HELSER

Kappa Sigma

Thornville, O.

The blushing boy from Thornville (not in the vicinity of Thorne's Woods). He is as "girl shy" as H. Lloyd ever was—in Granville; but different tales are told in Newark and other suburbs. He plays football, basketball, baseball, victrolas and checkers, and is somewhat of an artist, having spent some of his summers painting houses. Roe came here from Indiana University in his Sophomore year. We never have been able to find out why he left there, but hope it was for no other reason than to enjoy the privileges of our famous institution.

EDYTHE HULET

Phi Phi Phi

Cleveland Heights, O.

A round, baby-doll face, and soft, curling ringlets are frequently deceiving. Certainly you would never suspect such absurdly feminine charms as gracing one of the class's most ardent worshippers at the shrine of the gym. It is only when you see her swinging a mean hockey stick or calmly capturing baskets in a Yale-Harvard game that you do full justice to her athletic prowess. She looks as cute in a middy as in a party dress.

WILLIAM COURTIER

Sigma Chi

Pataskala, O.

"I am the basso profundo" according to Bill. According to the rest of us you are "Knight of the Purple Garter". Bill has worn his path to the sem, and when not rollicking within the realms of "co-edom" he is warbling for the Glee Club. He's a regular Sig, and once you know him, a jolly good fellow.

ANNA MAE SMITH

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Anna Mae comes from the smoky city, but she's a nice girl just the same. When she comes back after a vacation we always know whether dresses should be longer or shorter. Who can ever forget her Peacock Dance in the Freshman Show? We'll say she sure knows how to dance. We hear that "Polly" is specializing in journalism, and is taking a lab course from a certain Granville editor.

KENNETH JAMES Sigma Alpha Epsilon Cleveland, O.

Ken came to us this year from Case, the home of concentrated study. According to the dope he is a junior but he only rates sophomore in the recorder's den. He confided in us that this was the ideal condition for he sits with the sophs in chapel and that is far enough from the speaker to insure quiet in case he wants to sleep. He has made one great mistake in life so far as we know. He left Case and took some math here. He has two virtues.

EVELYN HOLDEN Shepardson Club Atlanta, Ga.

Now we know why song writers are always raving about the girls they left behind down in good old Dixie land. Only it was Evelyn who left us for a year, and how glad we were to welcome her back into our midst again! There isn't a jollier, lighter-hearted co-ed on the campus, take it from us. Even if she does say "mo" for "more" and "deah" for "dear"—the way she says 'em. We always were strong for these Southern types.

BARHYT BONNELL Commons Club Elizabeth, N. J.

There are only two good reasons why Bonnie will not be elected President of the United States at the next election, and both of them are the passionate sideburns which trickle down his swarthy features. And yet this fellow is bound to be a famous man with the monicker he sports. Get this—Barhyt Goldsmith Bonnell. Under the impetus of such a label a man could be anything from a great novelist to the mayor of Elizabeth, N. J. Bonnie's duties as President of Talbot Hall have taken up most of his time.

CLEO GREENE Shepardson Club Johnstown, O.

Cleo is one of these neighbors of ours who pops into the sloping confines of the fair village for a brief period of so-called college education and then slips quietly out again before you know it. She has very little to say, preferring to talk with her pencil. She is a good worker.

HERBERT WATERS Commons Club Swataw, China.

Hobo comes from China, the land of tea and roses. We never heard of Chinese freights and can't imagine where he got that name. The boy is swift of foot though—sails along like a junk over a waterfall. In spite of being handicapped by such an undignified name, Hobo has stepped out as a Y. M. C. A. executive and a debater. So far Herb's affections are poured upon all good things, but we predict a change.

JOHN BECKER

Beta Theta Pi

Dayton, O.

John comes from Dayton, the capital of the world according to McCann and others. "Jawn" was built for comfort, not speed. He likes to live, but do not hurry him, because having a good time takes patience. "Johnny" plays football on the line and on the square. His witty remarks are a welcome source of entertainment in class and out. He is big enough to hold down scenes for the Masquers and it takes just as big a man to hold them from behind as it does from the front.

THELMA WILKIN

Shepardson Club

Newark, O.

What would the bus line do without the Newark commuters? Thelma greets us, then leaves us, so it's hard to unravel the inside story on this young lady. A scholar, a lady, and a real friend to all who need one, may, in a measure, portray the lass whom the camera man caught resting along Broadway.

RALPH ALLEN

Newark, O.

Here's a boy who will be popular as long as "music hath charms", for when Ralph drapes himself on a piano stool and caresses the keys you just naturally lay aside your knitting and bend an admiring ear. During his three years in college he has won a brilliant reputation as a real musician. Ralph's proximity to his home prevents us from getting very well acquainted with him, but we can congratulate Newark upon owning this disciple of the fine arts.

FELICIE THRESHER

Sigma Delta Phi

Kansas City, Mo.

Felicie is ready for anything. She's athletic and knocks down all sorts of Shepardson honors. Often we've seen her flitting through the air doing an aesthetic dance. She has a distinctly modern touch in art—as the tower room often exhibited—designs for the Junior Revue came from the brush of this animated lassie. Our class couldn't get along without her—neither could a certain Sig. All we have to say is, if she can cook like she can draw, he's a lucky man.

ROBERT FRASCH

Sigma Chi

Bremen, O.

There are men in every class who lend a willing hand to each undertaking; men who labor for the class, and draw very little in the line of credit and never get near the calcium rays of campus glory. Here is one. Bob has been identified with nearly everything undertaken by our class and we want these few words to contribute a thanks for his efforts. He's a Sig and belongs to the famed east-end gang that has given so much entertainment to the Granville Inn.

IRENE HOSICK

Shepardson Club

Granville, O.

Irene is such a tiny little girl that you would almost think a gust of wind might blow her away. They say, however, that big things come in small packages, and that's our opinion of Irene. She has a voice that makes the profs really use their ears when she recites; but it's refreshing after some of the ways we hear vocal cords used. Irene is everybody's friend, too, and what better qualification do you want for any girl?

ROBERT MOORE

Commons Club

Zanesville, O.

Bugs, bugs, bugs, no we are not talking about this interesting youth of the campus, but rather his hobby. Bob is a star in biology and seven others kinds of ology which do not include the cigar. Clad in his now famous knickers, he can usually be seen hurrying someplace. No doubt he learned the secret of curly hair from some of his animal friends, and if he only knew it he could make a fortune by putting it on the market—the secret, not the hair.

VIRGINIA FOLLIN

Phi Phi Phi

Cleveland Heights, O.

Virginia came to us from Cleveland after spending a year at Western Reserve. It did not take her long to find her place and she has been climbing ever since. Anything literary finds Virginia right on the job, more than willing to do writing of any sort. Poetry is her pet diversion; she has been transposing the inspirations of the muse since childhood. However, she does not have the traditional peculiarities of a poet, but makes a jolly good friend. The Denisonian and Flamingo staffs have found her to be a valuable member.

JAMES MILLISOR

Lambda Chi Alpha

Newark, O.

Jimmy was built for comfort not speed. Jimmy's heart is as big as his profile. He is fortunate in being so expansive for if he had another jeweled pin to wear he might have to build an annex onto his vest. Jimmy's Phi Mu pin gives him away. His speciality is music. Music is first only to ladies. He doesn't make much fuss about it but he likes 'em. Returning to his speciality, Jimmy's saxophone is gold and the music is hot. He blows a Green Imp sob stick.

LILLIAN CODDINGTON

Newark, O.

The world is dotted here and there with people who tend strictly to business and never make their presence known unless called upon to speak. Lillian is just that kind. We believe that here is a big heart, an understanding way, and a cheerful demeanor all veiled by the cloth of silence.

ROSANNA ROEBUCK

Shepardson Club

West Union, O.

If the old Sphinx of the Sahara were to elect a silent partner to help him keep his lonely vigil, there is no doubt but that this brunette lassie could win his heart with ease. If silence is golden, Rosanna is indeed the wealthiest girl on the Denison campus. This maid is the symbolic embodiment of potent taciturnity, as Webster would put it.

CURTIS MITCHELL

Phi Delta Theta

Granville, O.

"Mitch" is a product of Granville High and he is one they are proud of. No wonder, for Mitch plays football like everything plus. He sort of specializes along that line but not to the extreme. His scholarship is a record to be envied by many. We must stretch the old saying a notch when we classify Mitch. "He is a gentleman and a scholar and an athlete".

MARJORIE MCGUFFIN

Shepardson Club

Pettisville, O.

If you are looking for an understanding pal you couldn't find a better one than "Marg". She is always ready for a good time or a prank of some sort. The south end of Stone wouldn't be the same without her.

She has a smile that would drive a cloud away on any rainy day; it just makes her beam all over. Having been blessed with black curly hair and snappy brown eyes, it all goes to make up a very attractive physiognomy.

CECIL VIAN

Commons Club

Mt. Vernon, O.

Cec is a sergeant in our army. He is a real one because he looks like Sergeant Wallace in several respects. His strong forte is with a gun. He can be found on the range most any time. To hear this soldier talk you would feel perfectly safe in time of war. He has the right dope on life—work, play, sleep.

DORIS MOORE

Shepardson Club

Granville, O.

If you ever hear Doris talk, we appoint you a committee of one to bottle up the specimen for exhibition. In fact she is an opposite to the general opinion that men have concerning the talkativeness of the more deadly of the species. Doris takes the world for granted—no need to make a fuss over it. If she thinks she wouldn't be too bored with our company, we wish she would make herself seen around the Sem so that we could get acquainted with her.

WINNIFRED KIRBY

Shepardson Club

Elkhart, Ind.

Burton Hall is the possessor of most of the hours that are spent by the lady from Indiana. Winny lives a pleasant life and never fails to spread the sunshine where she happens to be. A studious nature combined with a desire to be a friend has given the nomen of Kirby a favored boost in Shepardson.

LLOYD WYSE

Commons Club

Fayette, O.

Lloyd doesn't say much, but why should he? He goes about his business and gets it done in such a bang-up way that there is no need for talk. Lloyd has always stood like a rock when fighting for the fine old customs of the University. That's just like him. He always aligns himself on the side of the things that are good, wholesome and promising. He'll get there—that is our guess.

MARY FRANCES DEMING

Granville, O.

It took a fast man to catch Mary Frances, but Ellis spent two years in training on the cinder track, and his track laurels fitted him for the final dash which landed him on the running board of Mary's Franklin. Mary comes from within our own city limits, but we do not know how long she can resist the tempting distractions of the neighboring city of Columbus.

ALMON WRIGHT

Commons Club

Granville, O.

Al is one of these quiet fellows who steadily pegs away at his studies. He isn't a grind, though. For one thing, he never walks down the "long drag" after Chapel alone. They say also that he is frequently seen hanging around the southwest corner of Elm and Prospect. He says he's going to be a dignified prof. He might at that, leaving off the dignified. At least he knows something about history—good stuff, prof.

DOROTHY NICHOLS

Shepardson Club

Chicago, Ill

Every one likes a jolly, good-natured companion, and when one wants the blues chased away, we heartily recommend Dot. She is always on the spot with a joke and a spontaneity of humor that would provoke a smile from the smileless of mankind. Dot is the Denisonian's greatest rival. If one wants a bit of news, ask Dot! It is a point of interest to us all just how she acquires her versatile and heterogeneous knowledge, and we would appreciate the privilege of knowing her artistry.

ELEANOR SLOAN

Shepardson Club

East Cleveland, O.

Another ex-Reservite, 'pon our word! Oh well, if they're all like Eleanor let 'em come. Most of us don't know her very well yet, but here friendliness wears and her smile is of the genuine won't-rub-off kind. Paging Eleanor? You'll find her with "Jerry" the other half of the Cleveland team.

HAWLEY MORTON

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Newton Center, Mass.

Bud comes to us as a most striking example of the versatile type of man born and raised in the East and shipped West. Whenever the Sig Alph cook goes on strike, or gets lost in the basement, Bud steps into the breach. Here is one man who can cook, and as a representative of Granville College we'd stack him against any cook from the halls of Semdom. As an actor and impersonator of the other sex he is unsurpassed in these parts. Despite his acquired traits of feminism, Bud is not a softy.

ALBERTA SPOONER

Shepardson Club

Weston, Mich.

Now we come to one of our musical girls. She certainly rivals Chopin and Beethoven at their own game, and makes them writhe in their graves with envy as she makes the piano fairly talk. She never fails to have a smile accompany her Hello. She is much too quiet and unassuming for such a pleasing personality. We wish Alberta would "drop in" at her neighbors for more social calls as she is always welcome and every one wants to receive the benefit of her sweet nature.

IRA CRAWFORD

Commons Club

Dayton, O.

Ira thinks that all is not stam that stammers, anyway Darwin says you can lead a horse to drink but you can't make him. Ira has many friends as we know and when we go to Dayton each fall, we see that he holds a position not to be laughed at by anyone. He has carried water-buckets for the football teams for three years and has spent much time after school doing odd jobs for the Big Red.

ELLA CARSON

Chi Psi Delta

Urichsville, O.

Take a quantity of black hair and black eyes, add a cheery laugh and a good disposition, shake well by dancing, and the result is Ella. Anyone would be proud of the result. She's so different looking, and her shoes are always polished. Stone Hall girls think Ella is quite an addition since she has been the inspiration for several back-street serenades. As for managing ability, even the veriest mouse scurries, when Ella starts after something she really and truly wants.

ABBOTT HERRON

Alpha Theta Sigma

Mt. Vernon, O.

The Mt. Vernon sheik smiles winsomely at you. How do you like that blond hair, those broad shoulders, and that natty habit? Oh, he's quiet and unassuming enough, we'll grant that. We were fooled too at first. But, sweet mama, you should see little Abbott when no one's around and his best is at his side. We wouldn't have you think that Ab rates only with the ladies. Not that. Among the men, too, he is a hale fellow, well met.

ELMA BRUCE

Kappa Phi

Garrettsville, O.

For an all around peach of a girl, you couldn't find any better than Elma. She's good at athletics—most any kind—but especially basketball. Any time you feel like cutting up, hop over Pat's threshold, for she is an awful tease. The Junior girls have reason to be proud of her as their Student Government representative. When she has a job to do she does it and does it well.

ELMER SCHWEIKLE

Commons Club

Chicago, Ill.

Every day the newspapers are front-paging pints, in all shapes and forms, but they cannot dim the glories attached to our own little half-pint, shorty. A bundle of pep, a ready hand, and a big heart tell the daily story of this lad. His violin can charm, and the "Sem" has spent more than one sleepless night recovering from his stringed fantasies. A little big man that's him.

MARGARET O'NEIL

Shepardson Club

Zanesville, O.

You probably have heard about "Peggy O'Neil". Well, here's another one, only she doesn't spell her name quite the same way. We don't know much about the original "Peggy", but we do know that this one is mighty fine. She is a jolly good-natured "crittur". Horse-back riding is one of her pet hobbies, so if that is your secret passion, make telephone connections with Peg.

DONALD BOUGHTON

Phi Gamma Delta

Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

After a brilliant career in the Academy and the promise of a greater one in college, Don left us for the unknown North, much to our sorrow. However, his return this year marked the addition of more honor to the class of '26. As an athlete the varsity can well testify for him. As a scholar, ask any prof. As a genuine fellow ask anybody. Don was able to accomplish in a short time what most of us vainly reach after years of effort, and yet he was as consistent, day in and day out, as the lone T. and O. C. passenger in the noon limited.

CARL E. DAWKINS

Commons Club

Granville, O.

It is midnight. A golden moon rolls drowsily through the sombre silvery heaven and spring zephyrs gently sway the tall trees by the cottage. The last melodious notes of a passionate serenade die out on the balmy air,—and then Carl Dawkins, the intrepid brunette bass, steps up to the cottage, detaches the jug of cider from the rope, and the four collegiate carollers revel homeward. Carl must have an amorous' complex, for he not only serenades consistently, but pens poetry.

ESTHER STEVENSON

Phi Phi Phi

Newark, O.

When we want to know how short to wear our dresses—vital question!—we consult Esther. Invariably looking like the smartest of fashion plates, she is one of the campus' ultra chic. It isn't all in her clothes either—we know 'cause we've borrowed 'em sometimes! Furthermore we'd give our second best switch to have a pair of eyes like Esther's. Some girls have all the luck, don't they? Just as a minor point, Esther is very modern—always interested in innovations, as it were.

ROBERT NICKELS

Kappa Sigma

New Philadelphia, O.

"Eagle Beak", as he has been known since entering our University, was so named by his companions because it is so much easier to say than Robert. His spare time he spends playing basketball and visiting the "Sem", where he is quite well known. He is well informed on Mexico and other places where Standard Oil Tankers dock. His studies here are merely leading up to a course in "Hotel Managing".

FRANCES FISH

Shepardson Club

Cleveland, O.

Frances is a dandy girl—we don't know why she didn't let us know sooner, but at any rate we're glad she isn't at Northwestern any more. Since we just got acquainted with her ourselves we have to take it on good authority that she's very bright—and—ssh!—imagine such diligence in this modern jazz age—she hopes to be a lawyer one of these days. Can you imagine a fair semite, a "Woman of Shepardson", daring to become an expert in the vowel exchanging art?

GEORGE IMHOFF

Kappa Sigma

Wooster, O.

Wooster's "pride and joy" came to Granville and won a place in the hearts of all Denisonians. We like the sterling good nature and happy disposition displayed by Boob. We would like to unfold the deep dark secret of Jack's heart, but our knowledge is scant. Some say Wooster, some say Granville, and some say nothing. Boob is numbered among this last group and goes on smiling while we wonder.

WYNNE SILBERNAGLE Sigma Alpha Epsilon Columbus, O.

Wynne is that old boy. Big hearted, jolly, and ready for anything. He makes a whiz of an army officer—usually found in the rear enjoying a camel. As dispenser of cheers he entered the ranks of the Big Red D men and his patented contortions will not be forgotten by Denison rooters. Camp Knox is his permanent summer home.

PAULINE MCCREARY Shepardson Club Newark, O.

“Still waters run deep” applies so beautifully to Pauline that we just had to use it even at the expense of being non-original. It was a long while before we realized how nice this mademoiselle from Newark really was, with her golden smile. A few rides on the bus would soon let you past the reserve into the portals of a good friend.

EARL CLUTTER Commons Club Utica, O.

Altho Clutter hails from the sum total of Utica, O., he’s still a man for a’ that. He leaves no doubt of this in your mind when you watch him pull a Strangler Lewis on some unsuspecting frosh in the gym. Earl’s cheery “hello” or “hi”, according to whether he is addressing the weaker sex or otherwise, is characteristic in its heartiness. We have often wondered what this sturdy lad of the frontier thinks about the gentle maids who trip so lightly about our fair campus.

DORIS STRATTON Phi Phi Phi New London, O.

The thing which seems to impress one about Doris is her unsophistication. And she knows how to “do a job up brown”; you never have to coax her to do it, either. One of her side-lines has to do with literary activities. Also, among other things, she has the faculty of being a loyal friend. Her golden hair—even the gods themselves could not help admiring it. Well, she is just about right; we wouldn’t think of changing her.

WEBLEY BEAVEN Commons Club Rochester, Minn.

We were glad to see Web come back to Denison after a year of frolic and adventure amid the pagodas and junks of picturesque China. He is very modest in spite of his world travels. Webley’s consistent social policy has won him much admiration and respect, and we can hardly blame the girls for enjoying the company of this smiling Adonis. Web is popular among the fellows, too. He’s a man with a Strangler Lewis personality that gets you down.

RICHARD ALLEN

Beta Theta Pi

Troy, O.

First you see his red hair, then you see his cheerful face, now you hear his hearty greeting. That's Red Allen. Geniality is stamped all over Red. It is evident when he smears a prof on an exam, and also when he is the smearee. The way Red plows into an opposing line in football might deceive you, but when he helps several of the fallen enemy to their feet after one of his driving attacks, he again reveals his winsome personality.

ELEANOR MACHLIN

Phi Phi Phi

Milwaukee, Wis.

If we were working a crossword puzzle and needed a seven letter word meaning the embodiment of beauty, brilliance, and ability, we'd just naturally breathe a sigh of relief and pleasure, grab our Conklin and write in the word Eleanor.

This little maid from Lake Michigan environs can do anything from running a football banquet to a sorority party. Everything that she does bears a characteristic stamp of executive perfection.

HERBERT C. PALMER

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lakewood, O.

Ye editor—a man of parts—knight of the pen and king of hearts. Referring, of course, to Dick Palmer, versatile executive of this little pamphlet. Ever since Dick dropped in from Lakewood he's been doing things. It seems almost like a contradiction to say that he is an all-round man and a four-square man, but it's a fact. He's a strong "Y" man, a star on the intramural court or diamond, he knows the pros and likes the sem. He is one of the ablest thinkers on the campus, with a personality that is original and genuine.

BEATRICE SHREVE

Phi Phi Phi

Brooklyn, N. Y.

Allow us to present a chic and charming demoiselle from the great metropolis of Brooklyn,—a maiden blessed with ephemeral grace, wit, and favor, and endowed with every attribute which makes a damsel envied by her sisters. Who has not smiled to see "B" tripping gayly along the flower clad paths of the campus, arrayed in gorgeous furs and her aureate tresses girt with a dizzy headband of fantastic hue?

RUSSELL BERGOLD

Commons Club

E. Cleveland, O.

We have heard how the birds sing in the springtime, but here is a bird who knows no spring. He always has a tune on the brain. Russ falls into the category of "local talent". He has a habit of dashing from Granville to Cleveland and the latest Bradstreet Bulletin attributes the prosperity of the railroad to that group in the same "world of castles" as he is. A lot of the prosperity of the class of 1926 may be attributed to him too.

JUNE MANN

Shepardson Club

Granville, O.

June has the most soothing and soft voice that ever exercised the King's English. Her piquant soprano furnishes a pleasing contrast to the hoarse static of the collegiate bourgeois. June is quite a composed personage; it doesn't seem as if she'd get ruffled over a thing—always the same June. She is neatness personified. To top all this, she is a Phi Bet, and no one can deny that she deserves it.

DEAN MINNIS

Alpha Theta Sigma

Sandusky, O.

Before you stands one of that old school that was ushered in a few years ago under the guiding hand of Rudolph Valentino. We wish we had the oil that flows around Dean's cerebellum for our Ford go-cart. Here's another glimpse of this shining lad, from that city of Sandusky, whose fame was gathered from pre-prohibition days, he would make a mean bull-fighter. Hang a few Spanish drapes on his shoulders and you would have a "darling toreador" according to Stone Hall.

LOIS BARR

Phi Phi Phi

Bluffton, Ind.

Lois came to us from the famous Hoosier state. She has been doing her share to hold up its reputation too. A pleasing disposition plus an aptitude for a good time—anytime complete the descriptive vowels of this Junior. She is not a poet but has a fondness for any word that rhymes with "dusk".

CHESTER BOWEN

Lambda Chi Alpha

Granville, O.

"Reddy to go" that is his motto and he keeps it hung up down at the "Sem" where it is continually before him. The story is told of a trip he made to Newark, attired in his galoshes, ungartered socks, collegiate hat and the like. A little boy on the street was heard to say to his mother, "I did not know there was a circus in town". She scolded him saying, "Willie, that is not a clown, but one of the college boys from Granville". He's a good committeeman just the same.

MARTHA JANE HOLCOMB

Chi Psi Delta

Richmond, Ind.

"Marty" came to us her second year, and how glad we are that she came. Yes, we know she's rather hard to get acquainted with but when you know her it's different. "Marty" is going into sports with a will to win out—and she's majoring in English, too—a rare combination. Martha Jane is one of those girls who always looks spick and span, but yet doesn't give you the impression that her mother has just dressed her for a party. Have you ever heard her play the piano?

MARIAN PIERCE Phi Phi Phi Akron, O.

Getting ready to be married has turned out to be Marian's chief occupation. She left us at the end of the first semester this year—couldn't be away any longer!

Anyway, we think that the gentleman is to be congratulated, for Marian certainly is a "find". She made a host of friends while in school, who wish her all the success in the world in her chosen "career".

ROBERTSON SMITH Phi Gamma Delta East Cleveland, O.

Tailored in London. That tells the story of this walking ad from the Fiji caverns. Bob prances with the ease of a morning dove—on the piano, and the success of the Junior Revue goes to him. He is perfectly at home on the stage, and also somewhere in Cleveland. Every class needs a man like Bob and we are glad we have one.

HELEN CAPEHART Shepardson Club E. Liverpool, O.

There is an old saying that those people having a goodly amount of avoirdupois are the jolliest. Helen certainly lives up to this adage. You never see her in a bad humor. She never seems to run out of laughter, either; it just bubbles over. And fun—you're bound to have it if you live near Helen. She can compete with any of the famous "cut-ups" in thinking up original pranks and stunts.

RUSSELL PIERSON Phi Gamma Delta Granville, O.

This debonair, brummel-like youth is just one of the jolly "town boys". Ready for anything, anytime, anywhere that's Russ. What he likes best, who he likes best, and where he puts out are all mysteries of equal darkness to the casual observer. He is one of the Fijis who really looks good in knickers. On the hill he does just enough, and although not fired with tons of ambition he gets there just the same. As a sport writer his fame awaits his arrival.

MARIAN CRISWELL Shepardson Club St. Clarendon, Va.

Marian is the kind of a girl you like if you like that kind of a girl. She never quotes an adjective in her own behalf, but lets her friends advertise for her.

We have yet to find the time when Marian's dependability failed, and there is no doubt but that when the curtain rings down upon her college career, her record will be unblemished. She has easily won her letter in friendship.

DOROTHY B. CURTIS

Shepardson Club

New Richmond, O.

If you have a bad case of the blues on the hill some day, you are sure to have it knocked out when you meet Dot. Her smile and cheery greeting make you feel that life is really worth living. You sometimes wonder where the supply of pep comes from, for it always seems to be overflowing. Although she has lived off-campus, it has not hindered her from making pals among the dorm girls and she is liked by all who know her.

WILBUR C. JONES

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lakewood, O.

We honestly believe that if "Wib" were to stand before the great stone Sphinx and crack wise for a couple of minutes the old boy would break his silence of centuries and guffaw until the Pyranees sent back an echo. You can laugh with him or at him, but you'll laugh just the same. When he works, he works—when he works. His typewriter clicks for publications and he is the author of "Lost. My College Education in the Form of a Notebook". In conclusion, he likes all the ladies.

CECILE BROWN

Shepardson Club

Haskins, O.

At first glance you wouldn't think that the young Miss with those big brown eyes and light hair would be capable of a great deal of mischief. She has fooled us more than once, and here's a warning—don't get her started!

Cec makes a wonderful pal, and those who really know her, think it would be rather difficult to get anyone to really fill the bill as she does.

EDWARD AKERS

Beta Theta Pi

Weod River, Ill.

Mild, meditating, Methusalas have nothing on our Ed. His mellow voice and easy manner bespeak a serious, but broad mind. His passport from the U. of Illinois was gratefully punched and he was quickly made into a Denison "ed". Reading and sleeping are two of his favorite sports and yet we can't help predict an illustrious future for this youth.

MILDRED HORWELL

Shepardson Club

East Liverpool, O.

Mildred is so modest and unassuming—she probably wouldn't even want to be called "a dear" but we aren't responsible for the word. It just slipped out when we thought of Mildred. Never pushing herself forward, like some of us, Mildred goes about in her quiet way and only her best friends know how nice she really is. Aha, Mildred! Found out at last.

HELEN FRENCH

Shepardson Club

Erie, Pa.

"Frenchy" is little and cute and blonde—sort of demure and sweet, if you catch our meaning! When you aren't envying her combination of light hair and brown eyes, you're having a jolly time with her because Frenchy is loads of fun when you get her started. On trains to Erie, for instance! Here it might be apropos to mention that you seldom see Frenchy without "Marg". Damon and Pythias effect, you know!

DONALD COE

Commons Club

Shelby, O.

A thorough investigation, and gruelling third degree (a la Shepardson) have failed to reveal the inside dope on this staunch young chipper from the renowned archives of Shelby. He strikes us as being the sort of youth who could lend a ready hand to Gabriel and the other to Satan at the same time. Behind his features lurks the shadow of a bubbling youth, as well as the ghost of a diligent student.

HELEN HAINES

Sigma Delta Phi

Troy, O.

Helen of Troy rather jumps around—not that she goes to any other school—dear no, but she seems to like to be "here today and gone tomorrow". Anyway, she's here now and we're mighty glad to have her in our class. She holds that very estimable position of inspiring the leader of the "Green Imps"—what more could anyone ask of her? To see her smile, ask what a "truth meeting" by candle light is like.

LELAND CASE

Commons Club

Granville, O.

While "Casey at the Bat" created a lot more excitement than has our Casey at the Club, Leland has never been invited to hit a home run with the bases full, and he probably won't unless it's absolutely necessary. Casey meets each day's obligations with his usual optimism, and we have learned to appreciate this quiet fellow as he comes and goes in the classroom and on the campus. Wherever dependability is recognized, Casey's merit will win him favor, and here's hoping this classmate of ours helps himself to a generous slice of happiness.

VIOLET TAYLOR

Sigma Delta Phi

Croton-on-Hudson, N. Y.

We wondered if Violet could stop long enough to have her picture taken. She's so busy. The first year she was a representative on the S. G. Council, and since then has spent most of her time pounding a typewriter. She helps edit the Denisonian, while the Flamingo uses her classical pen, as she is one of the founders of the Poetry Club.

WILHELMINA HULSHIZER

Granville, O.

Another delegate from the town. This young lady never uses an unnecessary word, and seems to slide about throughout our halls of higher learning in a quiet manner. We cannot tell you much more about Wilhelmina other than to say we know that she is a worker, likes a good time and will someday make a—you know the rest.

ROBERT SWIFT

Commons Club

Avalon, Pa.

Bob is not fast, but just Swift. He has a characteristic way of talking—a sort of baritone profundo. As a shirt salesman he's a wizard. You'll tear your old shirts right up when he begins to sing his "Sales Song". We have never been able to find out much about Avalon, his home village. We sometimes wonder if there is such a place. He broke down on severe cross-examination one day and admitted that he had "Left his love in Avalon".

BLANCHE SARGENT

Shepardson Club

Marietta, O.

Blanche's serenity pervades the atmosphere no matter how tumultuous it formerly might have been. Nothing disturbs the tranquility of her daily life. At least no one is aware of any disrupting forces for there is always a cheer-o Hello forthcoming. This is a commendable trait undoubtedly, but a little less solidity and a few more outbursts of spontaneous pep go a long ways.

HOWARD KEELER

Beta Theta Pi

Racine, Wis.

Shorty the business man from a "Racin'" town, way out in Wisconsin. If you want to pass an amendment to the amendment to the amendment of the motion, he is the one to tell you how. He plays a good game of football, can give a real talk in Y. M., and handle the duties of Secretary of the Student Council; sort of a handy man. He resents his nickname which he acquired because of being built so near the ground but retaliates by saying his legs are long enough to reach the ground, anyway.

ESTHER FARR

Shepardson Club

Saxton's River, Vt.

Esther is one of those favored girls who looks as if she had just stepped out of a frame, with the caption underneath "Hair by Titian". It isn't every girl who can have luscious brown eyes and auburn hair! Add to this a cute nose and a determined chin, and you have a good all-round girl. She seems to have an awfully good time with her own particular bunch of cronies, but she is always friendly with everyone else. And mark this, she has time for other things besides studying.

DONALD MINOR

Phi Delta Theta

Waynesburg, Pa.

There are men of great deeds. There are men of many words, but here is a son from "somewhere in Pennsylvania" who is a man of deeds and not words. Don is no exponent of cumbersome jargon, but rather a silent, steady performer of each day's task. His multi-interests have marked him as one college man who is getting the much sought after all around development.

ELIZABETH BATEMAN

Kappi Phi

Zanesville, O.

"Betty" comes from Zanesville. She's a good sport and athlete as well as a reporter on the Denisonian. Although Betty is quiet she immediately impresses you with the fact that if once won she'll make one of your best friends. Betty delights in conventions and when she isn't attending one she's piling up money to send someone to another camp meeting.

DALTON DEEDS

Beta Theta Pi

Granville, O.

Dalton is one of those boys who came to college knowing what he wanted and he is getting it. Dalt used to live up in Lorain where they have big winds and easy access to Cleveland. He lives next door to the gas station now and goes to Newark. He has achieved great heights in the scholarship lines. "Sarg" numbers among his victorious exploits, a date to the Junior Banquet, and an "A" in five-hour math. Amen.

MILDRED ALEXANDER

Shepardson Club

Spring Valley, O.

Black hair and blue eyes are a mark of beauty, so the poets claim. Our Mil has an Irish wit, besides. When it comes to archery Mildred shoots a flawless arrow. She has made the All-Shepardson team every year. How about the arrow that was sent into the heart of someone she "dotes" upon? Listening to radios and going to bed at seven o'clock are her favorite hobbies.

ROLLIN SILCOTT

Commons Club

Washington C. H.

Like Daugherty and Tut Jackson, Rollin comes from Washington Court House, the home of many great people. In spite of this, however, Rollin is quite a modest chap, with likable ways and an accommodating disposition. In fact, it is rumored that he has turned traitor to Denison and is accommodating a certain fair damsel at Wesleyan with letters and other satanic expressions of treason. What else could induce that moon-like expression in fair Rollin's countenance?

FRED BEHAN

Phi Gamma Delta

Ottwa, Kansas

Freddie, our boy, was swept into our famed circle by some Western express or tornado. He came to us just this year, but is so up and doing that it seems as though he had grown right with us. He is an athlete, and that includes the parlor too. His kinky hair, somnolent voice, and perfect dance stride have all attributed to his "davenport accomplishments". He is a bear at grabbing passes and should show up at one of the Big Red wings next fall. Yes, we like Freddie.

DOROTHY MOOR

Chi Psi Delta

Lima, O.

The word "vivacious" was invented especially for Dot. Whatever she undertakes is done with a pep and enthusiasm characteristic of her small person. Acting in Masquer's plays would seem to be her specialty, but she also is a debater and finds enough time to threaten Phi Betdom with a bevy of A's. In the meantime she assists in history, delights the English profs and keeps the minutes for the Shepardson Student Government. Although here, she keeps a "foote" in Lima.

FLOYD LOCKARD

Commons Club

Middletown, O.

Floyd thinks Shakespeare said, "Give me liberty or death", and if it was mentioned in a one-thirty class we are sure he missed it. He can knock off resounding beats on a drum, or can cut loose with echoing class snores with equal dexterity. A chap who is ready for a good time and whose philosophy seems to be, "please go away and let me sleep for I would rather sleep than eat." He does all his work and recitations on "native ability".

NAOMI ALSPACH

Newark, O.

This little bundle of intellectual femininity has made the Denison professors weep for joy as her shining Phi Bet key will testify. Getting A's is either a habit or an instinct native to the Alspach blood.

We have often wondered what Naomi does with her spare time. On windy days we expect almost any breeze to sweep her from her tiny moorings.

NORMAN DAY

Commons Club

Wooster, O.

We seldom see Day at night, for he is one of our real students. This youth, a warm advocate of "coal dust" hair, and eminent campus psychologist took his tooth brush and comb from Wooster and entered our ranks last fall. He thinks and thinks and thinks—and no one knows what he thinks. Each day seems like the one just past to him and he counts it won or lost by his scholastic record.

In Memoriam

As a friend, scholar, and gentleman the loss of Croyle Lane to the class of 1927 has been keenly felt. He was a diligent and willing worker whose every effort was veiled by a characteristic modesty which won for him the admiration of his classmates. He was a member of the University Glee Club and greatly interested in music. His clear tenor, though silenced now, has been enriched by memory. As member of the Denison Commons Club he was held in highest esteem by his brothers. The whole University mourned the loss of a worthy son.

With a sincerity of purpose and a zeal to labor, Audra Shriver entered with the class of 1927. On the campus his placidness portrayed most ably a real student. On the football field or on the diamond he maintained that same composure which bespoke a hard, but clean player. His interest in college activities rounded out a well developed and pleasing personality. He was a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity. The news of his sudden death came as a shock to the entire University.

The A. C. C. now numbers seven chapters in its organization. Since its inception in 1917, the Denison chapter has sought to apply the principles of democracy to college social life, and in providing fraternity life to men not affiliated with Greek-letter fraternities has been of great service to Denison. The chapter house is on college hill.

DEBATE SOCIETY

Debating at Denison has been an activity of increasing interest and the many triumphs of the Big Red orators have established the forensic art on the campus. Much of the success of the debating teams has been due to the unfailing zeal of Dr. Bunyan Spencer who has coached the squads.

In 1923-24 the proposition concerning the entrance of the United States into the permanent court of international justice was debated. Wallace Heiser captained the affirmative team. Other members were, Aguilar, De Long, and Kenneth Martin. Marietta, Ohio University, and West Virginia State colleges were defeated by the Denison affirmative team. The Negative team composed of William Mather, Robert Selby, Lloyd Michael, and Jackson White was victorious over Marietta, Ohio, and Bucknell.

The Shepardson team, debating the same question, lost only one contest during the season. Mary Dodge White was captain of the affirmative team composed of Kathryn Silliman and Lois Davis. The negative team was captained by Louise Kramer and included Thelma Toby and Dorothy Moor.

The Society of Debate and Oratory, which is composed of members from both colleges on the squads has been a big factor in promoting interest in debate. Crawford De Long is president; Thelma Toby, vice-president; and Lois Davis is secretary-treasurer.

MASQUERS

The Denison Masquers maintain and increase the interest and best efforts in dramatics at Denison. Membership is honorary, based on competitive try-outs held in January in which all students of the University are eligible to compete. Prof. E. P. Johnston is the coach of the organization. His excellent coaching ability plus the increasing experience and skill of the players have resulted in some very worth while dramatic productions.

Last June the Masquers produced "As You Like It", and this winter presented "You Never Can Tell" and "Truth About Blayds."

Striving to render a Christian service to the men of Denison University, and endeavoring to foster the high ideals for which the Y. M. C. A. stands, the work of the college "Y" has been successful this past year.

Following the membership and finance drives in the early fall, which heralded a promising year, the multi-duties of the cabinet began. The Student Sunday School was opened and a good average attendance has been maintained all year. Work with the foreign population in Newark was conducted by a committee. A live and energetic Hi-Y club was sponsored at the High School. The work of the gospel team was up to the standard set in previous years.

Under the leadership of Professor King, a freshmen cabinet was selected, and its work has proven the value of this addition to the "Y". Members of visiting athletic teams were taken care of in commendable fashion, and a strong effort was made to bring the college "Y" in closer touch with freshmen.

Dr. Frederick E. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Indianapolis lead the services during the Week of Prayer. His theme, "Practical Christianity" was timely and beneficial.

The Y. W. C. A. is one of the most important organizations on the campus. Devotional meetings are held every Sunday evening, where local and world problems are brought to mind. Aside from these meetings various committees carry on bible study, social service work in Newark, finance and membership drives, and a limited number of social activities.

In cooperation with the Y. M. C. A. a week of prayer is conducted each year. Some speaker of national reputation is brought to Denison, who guides the students in thought about the deeper aspects of life.

Annually delegates from the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes are sent to the summer conference at Lake Geneva. This past year one delegate was sent to the National Convention in New York. A representative was also sent to the Wenonah Industrial Conference.

DENISON GLEE CLUB

Under the able leadership of Professor Karl Eschman the University Glee Club completed a successful season with a fine home concert. The club was composed of varied, but good talent and presented an attractive program.

The regular Thanksgiving and Spring Vacation trips were a success and the club was a big factor in making Denison known throughout the state.

Stanley Holcomb acted as leader, and Harold James as manager this year. Holcomb, Bergold, James and McGuffin composed the quartette. Professor Eschman was the accompanist.

The Shepardson Glee Club is chosen at the beginning of each school year by means of try-outs. The talent of this year's club is unusual in that there is a wide range of ability along instrumental as well as vocal lines.

During the past year the club has helped to furnish the music in Swasey Chapel. A joint concert with the Denison Glee Club was given at Home-coming. In the first annual contest of the Intercollegiate Girl's Glee Club Association of Ohio, the club took second place.

THE ORCHESTRA

The Denison University orchestra was organized by Arthur Judson, former director of the Conservatory, and at present connected with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. Since its founding the personnel of the Denison orchestra has been drawn from the two colleges and the Conservatory. It has assisted by playing accompaniments for soloists and the chorus in Oratorios. It will accompany the opera, "The Mock Doctor" and will again play for the singing of the "Messiah".

A Homecoming Concert was given in the fall, a concert was played in Alexandria, and a Symphony Concert was given in Recital Hall.

The Chemical Society provides opportunity for extra-curriculum and advanced work in both the practical and theoretical fields of chemistry. Election, purely honorary, is based on the scholastic achievements in the department, and the interest in the work. Practically all the members in the society have contributed a report on some subject of interest to the group, and many problems of interest to the chemist have been discussed.

The annual "Purification" or initiation occurs after the Spring Recess.

Reserve Officers Training Corps

Cadet Officers

McLain, Brown, Hyatt, Wallace.

MILITARY SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Under the able leadership of the two captains and the capable support of the sergeant the R. O. T. C. is humming merrily along. A fine sight it is indeed to see the cadet officers parading about the campus with their sam browns—classy looking boys they are. The addition of the band to the unit has made it a well rounded organization, worthy of the prominent position it holds, and the esteem in which it is held.

CAPTAIN McLAIN

Captain McLain succeeded Colonel Clark as commander of the Denison R. O. T. C. unit two years ago and has won a permanent place on the Denison campus. The captain with his eastern lingo, beside his militaristic propensities, rates high as an all around good fellow. Lead 'em on, Cap, lead 'em on!

CAPTAIN BROWN

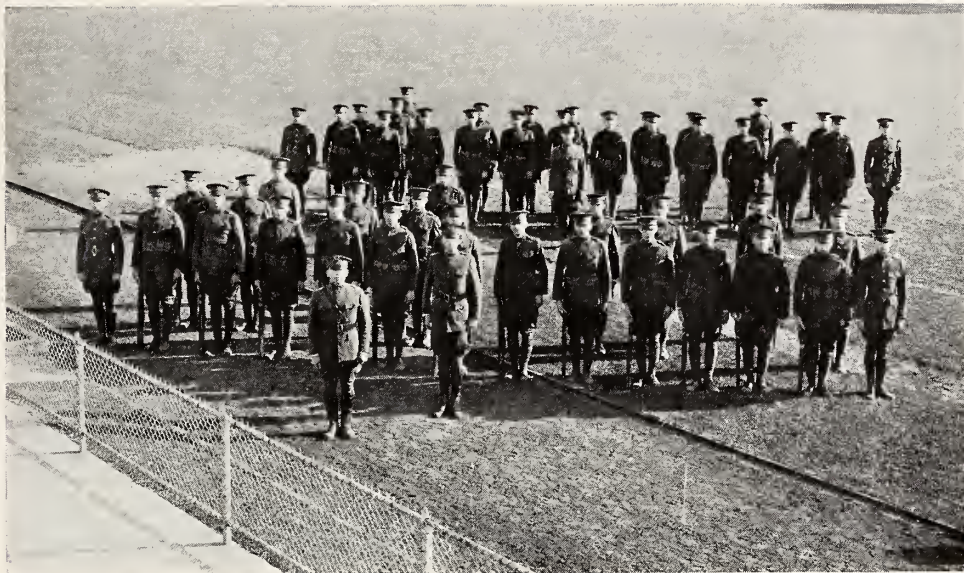

Captain, it is a pleasure to salute officers like you. Your commanding presence, your peppy disposition, and your wholesome military air makes us respect you as an officer and value you as a friend. Above the wail of the pacifist you can hear our appreciation of the service you and others are rendering for Old Glory.

STAFF SERGEANT HYATT

Despite the fact that he is a staff sergeant in the 10th Infantry, "Sarg" is O. K. He wields a wicked baton over the heads of the R. O. T. C. bandsmen. Some of his influence can be appreciated when the band crashes out one of those snappy military marches which fairly scintillate with pep.

SERGEANT WALLACE

That "ole Sarg" certainly enjoys himself in and about Granville, mostly about. When he grins and shows his array of gold teeth we know that the Freshmen are in for it. On the drill ground you ought to hear Sarg tell them how to port arms—boy, he tells 'em.

Our days in Doane are almost o'er;
We now pass on to higher realms—
A part will delve in Wisdom's lore,
While some the work of life begin.

As we review our stay in Doane,
A thousand memories surround,
The joys of days forever gone.
A host of lifelong friends we've found.

But may God's blessings e'er be ours,
Until the work of life is done.
Both peace and joy and sweet content,
May these be ours at set of sun.

To us another year in Doane remains,
Another year in which to make our lives
Both fuller, richer, grander, more like Thine,
Another year of profit, joy and gain.

Ah! yes, another year in Doane remains,
And may it be the richest of the four;
We hope that it may be the golden dawn,
The prophet of life's brighter, grander hour.

These are the crucial days when we prepare
To live a life both noble, brave, and true.
But let us surely Him take as our guide,
And build a destiny we shall not rue.

THE IRVING-CICERO CONTEST—1924

The biggest event of the year in the Academy was marked by much enthusiasm and interest. Both societies displayed their best and the ancient rivalry broke forth anew. The “lineup” was as follows:

Irving	Event	Cicero
Glenn Watson-----	Debate -----	Vernon Locke
Lloyd Mallon -----	Oration -----	John Lucurell
Stuart Chamberlain-----	Essay -----	Burton Chubb
Paul Swanson-----	Declamation -----	Henry Sherman

Cicero won the debate, but Irving was victor in each of the other events, and therefore won the contest, six to four. This makes the fourth consecutive year in which Irving has won the contest, and the first year toward another loving cup which has been offered to the society which wins three consecutive contests.

FOOTBALL 1924

The Doane Academy gridders played a losing season, but fought with determination in spite of a practically green team and a new staff of coaches. At the end of last year eleven letter men went out from Doane and football in the Little Red school was further crippled by the loss of Coach E. C. Rupp, who accepted an offer from Shurtleff College. However, in the face of all these handicaps, R. N. McFarland and Dave Hla gave out the call for recruits and were rewarded with thirty-three men, the largest group that ever went out to try for berths on the Little Red eleven.

The team was built around Captain Gregory, tackle, and Wiley, halfback, the only two letter men remaining from last year's team. Both were in fine condition and formed a splendid nucleus on which to build a new team. Although the team looked rather strong at the beginning of the season, many were forced out of the earlier games on account of injuries.

Out of the eight games which the Doane squad played, two were at home, played on Deeds field for the first time. They upset the dope completely when near the close of the season they trounced Utica 14-0. Worthington was nosed out by one point, 13-12. The Baltimore game was a tie, 7-7.

Captain Gregory was the outstanding player on the Doane team. The opposing teams were scarcely able to stop him, and on two or three occasions he broke through the entire team for a touchdown. He was responsible for 39 of the 54 points which Doane totaled against all her opponents. This is his last year as a football man for Doane and his loss, together with that of five others who will graduate, will be keenly felt.

BASKETBALL 1924

The basketball season for 1924 was a successful one in more ways than one. Handicapped by having but two letter men back, Coach Rupp was forced to mold into shape a new combination to carry them through a hard season. Captain Hammond and Clark formed the nucleus of the five that were selected to represent the Academy.

Early in the season Cottingham showed ability at the forward position. Swanson was another good floor man and alternated at forward and guard. The choice in guard was again in Clark from last year's team, while Gregory, the gridiron star, landed the berth as his running mate. It was around Wright at center that most of the floor work of the team was built. Hammond at forward played the most consistent game of any on the team and could always be counted on for several field goals. Wiley was usually put in at guard, but could play any position.

Of the scheduled games Westerville and Alexandria were taken into camp to the tunes of 38-18 and 21-7. McConnelssville was a little too much for Doane, humbling the Little Reds by a 27-22 count. The fast floor work of Columbus East High resulted 25-9 in their favor. At the Delaware Tournament Doane was forced to go down to defeat at the hands of another Columbus team, West High, 20-9. It was with a flash of real form that Rupp's quintet battled with the freshmen in one of the most spirited games of the entire season. Three overtimes had to be played before the freshmen nosed out the Little Reds. The work of the academy in the intramurals was highly commendable. In every contest they gave their more experienced opponents a real battle.

Much of the success goes to Rupp, who devoted a great amount of his time and energy developing a representative team for Doane.

Prospects for next year are none too bright. Graduation in June will claim all the letter men except Cottingham and Gregory, who will form the nucleus of next year's combination. Cottingham was elected captain for the 1925 season.

TRACK 1924

Gregory, Doane Academy's four-letter athlete, brought the Red and Black into especial prominence last May when he hurled the shot 43 feet 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches at the annual interscholastic meet held in Columbus. By this heave he set a new class "A" record and defeated all comers.

He started the season by winning first place at the Ohio Relays with a throw of 42 feet, eight inches.

The following week at Delaware he won first honors, in the Central Ohio sectional meet with a distance of 42 feet 5 inches. He also won third place in the javelin with a throw of 140 feet.

At home, with the sixteen pound shot, he bested all the college entrants with a throw of 38 feet 2 inches and in addition came out fourth in the javelin throw.

"Mike" is without doubt, one of the most illustrious athletes Doane has had for many years. As a football player he is unexcelled, and this year was captain of the Little Red team. He has furthermore displayed no mean ability in basketball, but as a shot putter he has reached the summit of his prowess. Last year he won three gold medals and in his practice this year has shown a marked improvement over last year. His graduation in June will be a great loss to the Academy.

ATHLETICS

PRAYER OF A SPORTSMAN

Dear Lord, in the battle that goes through life,
I ask but a field that is fair,
A chance that is equal with all in the strife
A courage to strive and to dare.
And if I should win, let it be by the code,
With my faith and my honor held high;
And if I should lose, let me stand by the road
And cheer as the winners go by!

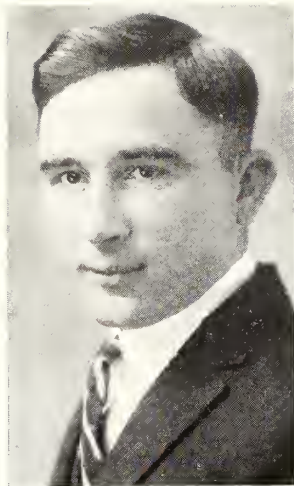

And Lord, may my shouts be ungrudging and clear,
A tribute that comes from the heart,
And let me not cherish a snarl or a sneer,
Or play any sniveling part;
Let me say "There they ride on whom laurel's bestowed,
Since they played the game better than I,"
Let me stand with a smile by the side of the road
And cheer as the winners go by!

So grant me to conquer, if conquer I can,
By proving my worth in the fray;
But teach me to lose like a regular man,
And not like a craven, I pray,
Let me take off my hat to the warriors who strode,
To victory splendid and high.
Yea, teach me to stand by the side of the road
And cheer as the winners go by!

COACH LIVINGSTON

SIDNEY JENKINS

Assistant Coach

"Sid" is the one that directs the Freshman in his first college competition at Denison. He has been at the helm of first year sports for the past several years and the records of his teams speak well for this former Denison star of baseball, basketball and football fame. He is Livy's right hand man and one of the best scouts that ever gleaned information for the Big Red. Thus he makes the Big Red victories possible although he seldom sees Denison play.

THOMAS McMAHON

Assistant Coach

"Tommy" is another man who plays an important part in the work of the Department of Physical Education at Denison. He is always on the job trying to figure out new stunts for his gym classes or teaching the new men old tricks. Besides handling a large part of the regular freshman and sophomore classes he devotes some of his time to helping Livy round the varsity football team into shape. He is also a former Big Red star.

As official leader of Denison's cheers, Wynne Silbernagel has proved himself to be a live wire and a fine dispenser of pep. His untiring efforts and ability to arouse pep and spirit in the crowds at the games won for him the cheer leader position in his Junior year.

Silbernagel leaves a man-sized job to Edmund Stratton who served as his assistant throughout the year. "Bud" who was recently elected to lead the cheers next year will be assisted by "Red" Craig, a newcomer in Denison.

FOOTBALL REVIEW, 1924

Now that the 1924 football season has become history, a glance back by the football enthusiast shows that, although the Denison eleven was on the short end of the score several times, they were never out fought or outplucked. Everywhere the Big Red is known to be a clean, hard-fighting aggregation and this year's squad was no exception. Three times the Rogersmen came off the field victorious, four times defeated, and once the battle was a draw.

"Bill" Meredith's non-conference team from Ashland was the first foe to invade Deeds field and they proved a worthy one. The Ashland aggregation presented a well balanced, well coached team, and they held the Big Red to a scoreless tie. Broughton was the individual star for Livy's eleven.

On the following Saturday the Big Red was crushed by the heavier driving attack of the Wittenberg grid machine and went down to a 17 to 7 defeat. It was a great exhibition of football from the opening kickoff until the final gun sounded. Denison's only score came on a fake kick by Allen. "Red" hurled the oval to Rogers who made a leaping catch behind the line. Jenkins kicked the goal.

For the third game of the season the Granville boys traveled to Cincinnati and defeated the Queen City eleven for the eighth straight time. The Big Red ripped, passed, and bucked their way to a touchdown in the first ten minutes of play, and throughout the game they played a brand of football that surpassed anything that they had shown up to this time.

Mox Weber, Oberlin quarterback, decided the game with Denison when he booted the oval over the uprights from the 18 yard line after one of the most hectic football games of the year. For three quarters the two teams had struggled, each fighting, driving, and battling to gain the advantage, but to no avail. It was a battle royal between two of the most evenly matched teams in the Ohio Conference.

The annual Miami classic at Dayton was next, and again Denison was defeated after they had outplayed their opponents in every department of the game. Both elevens battled toe to toe throughout the contest and aggressiveness marked every play. The superiority of the Big Red was shown by their total of twenty first downs. The final score of 13 to 12 gives one some idea of the fierceness of the contest.

The turning point in the Big Red schedule came with the 14 to 0 victory over Ohio Northern on Deeds field. This game was the big event of the Dad's day program and the eleven performed in admirable style.

One of the most colorful battles of the year was the Denison victory over Ohio University at Athens 14 to 7. At the critical moment Denison opened up an aerial attack that was almost perfect, and spectacular passes by Allen and Rogers brought relief and joy to the hearts of the many followers of the Big Red that had journeyed to Athens. Nicholson's recovery of a fumble and his thirty yard run for touchdown in the final quarter was one of the features of this battle.

The final game of the season, the Homecoming day contest, with the strong Wooster team as the opposition, was lost 3 to 0 after one of the hardest struggles seen here since the Wesleyan game in 1922. Denison fought desperately against the powerful smashing attack of the Bolesmen, but was unable to keep Starn, Wooster's versatile leader, from scoring via the dropkick route.

Gibson, Manager.

BAKER—One of the heaviest men on the squad this year, was not a regular but he proved to be a good man to keep on the sidelines and he got into more than enough quarters to win his "D". He is a sophomore and should have two more big years before he finishes his career as a member of the Denison eleven.

STOCKUM—Playing his last season on the Big Red varsity, proved his worth as a field general of no mean ability. His specialty was the forward pass game and he proved to be equally accurate on either the sending or the receiving end of the play. "Ernie" played his best game of the year against Cincinnati, our traditional foe.

RINE—Started the season at end, having played that position in a previous campaign, but he was later shifted to guard where he played a bangup game. It was in the Oberlin contest that he first appeared as a regular and from that time on he was a tower of strength in the Big Red forward wall. He played best against Wooster.

CAPTAIN ROGERS, All-Ohio halfback—For three years a member of the Big Red eleven and one of the best ground gainers to ever represent Denison, led the team in a faultless manner during his final campaign. He was a flashy runner, being at his best in a broken field, and he was recognized as one of the best running backs in the conference. He played the entire time in all the games of the 1924 season.

BECKER—In spite of the fact that he was handicapped by an injured ankle and changed at the beginning of the season from guard to tackle, played a consistently good game throughout the schedule. His shiftiness and weight made him a valuable player and the opposing team found it hard to take him out of the game. He played best against Miami.

BROUGHTON—Held down the left end position. He was a sure man in receiving passes. Despite the fact that he was the lightest man in the conference, he played his position well and was seldom boxed. He usually either spilled the interference or sifted through to get the man with the ball. He starred against Ashland and Ohio.

CAPTAIN-ELECT ALLEN—Is Denison's hard hitting fullback and throughout the season he proved to be of great value to the team. He is a triple threat man, as he can punt, pass, or carry the oval equally well. He was an outstanding player both on offense and defense and his teammates showed their confidence in him by electing him to lead the eleven in 1925.

MITCHELL—The work of "Mitch" at guard was one of the real features of the line play. On the defense he was a veritable stone wall and on the offense, because of his weight and speed he was often called out of the line to run interference. He was a hard fighter and showed up well in his second year of varsity play. He played best at Oberlin.

OWENS, CENTER—Played his first inter-collegiate game this season, and his accurate passing, coupled with his all around play, gained for him a place on at least one All-Ohio selection. He was a hard tackler and adept at breaking up the plays of the opposition, many times getting the man behind the line of scrimmage. He played every minute of every game.

SEBALD—After two years of seasoning on the varsity squad blossomed forth as a real star. His long end runs were the features of many of the conflicts of the past year, especially in the Ohio Northern game did he show to advantage when his long jaunt down the side line placed the Denison team in position to score. He has played his last for Denison.

BENSON—Is a hard man to beat when it comes to nabbing forward passes. He has played at end for the Big Red during the past three seasons and his place will be a hard one to fill on next year's eleven. Due to his fight and aggressiveness, few gains were made around his end. His best exhibition was against Ohio, when he intercepted two passes in addition to handling his other duties well.

NICHOLSON's game was to knife through the opposing team's line and spill the play. He did not have much to say but his actions spoke louder than words when he got into football togs. He was one of the fastest tackles in the conference. His sensational run at Athens produced his only touchdown of the year. He played every game.

BASKETBALL REVIEW, 1925

Looking back over the schedule of thirteen games, ten of which resulted in victories—followers of the Big Red basketball team should be pleased with the showing made by the men during the season of 1924-1925. Although at the start of the season the team looked like championship contenders, we should not feel disappointed at the rating possessed at the close of the season. Twice on foreign floors and once on the home court the score appeared on the wrong side of the books, but that did not represent the true capacities of the Denison team.

In the first game of the year "Bill" Meredith's five from Ashland College was turned back by a decisive score after a clever exhibition by the entire squad at Livy's command.

The next affair was also a non-conference game and this time it was Antioch that went down to defeat before the Denison basketeers. The score was 44 to 21.

Denison overwhelmed Otterbein at Westerville in the first conference tilt, with Douglas the outstanding performer.

It was at the end of the barnstorming trip that the Big Red met the fresh Wooster five that had been primed for the Denison game and they fell before the Bolesmen 28 to 37.

Wittenberg came to Granville for the next contest and their well balanced hard fighting team gave the Big Red a nice run for their 43-37 victory. The count was knotted at the end of the game 35 all. Hla was inserted at the beginning of the overtime period and he started a rally that brought victory.

The Miami game was a walk-away for the Big Red. The southern team never had a chance and the final count gave the Denison team a 55 to 18 advantage. The Denison five outclassed their opponents in all departments.

Denison's best efforts of the season resulted in a neat victory over Ohio University the following week-end. Ohio, the conquerers of Wesleyan were completely outplayed and the Denison players showed a wonderful brand of basketball in defeating their opponents at Athens, 34-18.

Two nights later Wesleyan invaded the wigwam and emerged victor in a hard fought game. The Methodists had the better team although neither five showed their true value in this contest, which was interesting throughout. The largest crowd of the season watched the "Battling Bishops" take the long end of the 41 to 30 count.

Denison took on Wooster next and those that saw the game cannot understand how they had ever defeated the Big Red. The game was slow and poorly played, the Denison team finally winning 34 to 21.

The Otterbein game on the home floor proved to be another walk-away for the Big Red. The final score of 61 to 19 however does not represent the amount of fight that the two teams put into the contest.

At Oxford in the second game with Miami, the team ran into unexpected difficulties. The Miami mentor had done some pruning and the downstaters put up a much better game than they did here. The final score was 31 to 22, and the locals without the services of Richardson had a hard time coming out on top.

Featuring the Homecoming celebration at Delaware the Big Red took the worst beating on the basketball floor that she has received in several years. The team was completely off form and they lost 40 to 20.

Cincinnati fell before the Denison five to the tune of a 30 to 21 and 33 to 21 in the two contests with the Wigwam boys. The only feature of the second contest with the River City lads lay in the fact that it was the last home game.

The final game of the year was played at Springfield, and the Big Red played wonderful ball to defeat the Lutherns 41 to 33. In spite of the fact that the Big Red won by an eight point margin, the game was close and well played throughout.

CAPTAIN HASKINS—Finished his second year as a member of the Big Red squad in good style, and he was the high scorer of the team with one hundred and seventeen points. He was a sure shot in the vicinity of the foul line and with his long reach he was a hard man to stop. He proved to be an able leader and was equally good on offense and defense. He was selected as All-Ohio guard last season and this year, after changing to the other end of the court, he earned honorable mention by his brilliant playing.

CAPTAIN-ELECT JENKINS—Although only a sophomore, proved to be the fastest floorman on the Big Red during the past season. He was not only a good defensive player, but he was a consistent shot as well. He played a clever defensive game, breaking up plays and dribbling down the floor at critical times. Always holding his own with any opponent. His fine playing earned for him a place on at least one All-Ohio selection and he received honorable mention on several others. He ranked fourth on the team in scoring.

DOUGLAS showed up well in his second year on the Denison varsity. He is an excellent shot and a hard working floorman. He was a little slow getting into form, but his old speed did come back and he contributed much to the successes of the Big Red. Shots from around the foul line were his specialty although he was adept at dropping them in from almost any angle consistently. Douglas played in every game on the schedule and ranked third in the scoring, as he counted several markers in each game and totaled almost a hundred.

RICHARDSON—Was seldom outjumped during the season and he always contributed several baskets to the Big Red score. Playing his first year on the Denison five, "Larry" went good all season in spite of the fact that he was handicapped part of the time by injuries. He was a consistent basket shooter and because of his height was an important cog in the passwork of Livy's team. He was mentioned for All-Ohio honors by several papers and we believe that if he had gone through the season uninjured he would have made the All-Ohio five.

NICHOLSON—was a new man on the team, but he played like a veteran. He was used some at the bat-off position, but saw most of his service as a stationary guard. “Nick” under the basket saved many an anxious minute, for picking the ball off the backboard was one of his specialties. His height made him a fine running mate for Jenkins and he snagged many passes which he returned to the Denison end of the court. His best exhibition was against Ohio University where he broke up the plays of the Athenians.

ASHBROOK—A former Doane Academy star, was the third of the trio of sophomores that won their letter this year. He was a guard and played his position well. Most of the time he worked at the back guard position, and he pulled the ball down off the backboard with skill. He nabbed the ball from his opponents and used good judgment in passing. His excellent guarding kept down the opponent’s scores and he contributed several points himself. His work under the basket was the feature of several Denison wins.

HLA—was a flashy player and one of the most popular that ever donned the Red and White of Denison. His speciality was making shots from difficult positions on the court and he saved many a game for the Big Red by his clever shooting and dribbling. He did not get going till the middle of the season, but his playing after the halfway mark was good. He was the star of several games and finished the year in good style. He has played his last for the Big Red.

LOVELESS—Proved to be a very capable manager and he had the esteem of every member of the team because of the efficient way that he looked after their needs. The team had eight games on the road besides a barnstorming trip, and it took a good man to keep things running smoothly. “Doc” has been judged one of the best managers that the Big Red ever had. The exactness of his reports and his thoughtful care of the men make all sorry that he will not be around next year. He was a congenial traveler.

LIVY'S BASKETBALL REGIME

During the fourteen years that Walter J. Livingston has been in charge of athletics at Denison his basketball teams have made an enviable record in conference circles. His teams have maintained an average for the fourteen seasons that we believe is unequaled in the Ohio Conference.

While "Livy" has held the reins at Denison his teams have won one hundred and forty-five games and lost only forty-one. Which gives Denison a percentage of .779 for one hundred and eighty-six contests. In these games the Denison quintets have run up a total of 6,999 points as compared to the 4,401 garnered by their opponents. These figures show that the fives representing the Red and White have been consistent scorers. In other words "Livy's" teams have counted almost 2600 more points than their opponents and have won with an average lead of 14 points.

Some other facts that are worthy of mention are those facts stated in the form of records which have been hung up in past as models for the years to come. Only once has a Big Red team lost more than three games in a single season. Only three times in the fourteen years have they finished below third in the Ohio conference. A Denison team has never been out-pointed in a single season.

The fact that the teams in the last few years have been unable to roll up such large scores may cause some alarm to those that give only a casual glance at the figures, but one must remember that the methods of playing basketball have undergone quite a change since the days of '13-'14. The present style of five man defense makes for closer scores than did the hit or miss method of a few years back. Instead of every man for himself the trend now is for combined offensive and defensive tactics which is not conducive to beau-coup scoring.

CAPTAIN POWELL

TRACK REVIEW, 1924

The track season of 1924 saw Denison holding her place as one of the best teams in the Ohio Conference. Coach Livingston again devoted all of his time to the development of the track team. The result was a well balanced team of weight and dash men that furnished considerable opposition for all opponents.

Ohio Northern was the first to invade the lair of the Big Red and Denison overwhelmed Claude Sharer's team by a 103 to 28 count. The Livingston coached men took first in every event in the opening meet. Bishop, a sophomore, was the individual high scorer of the match.

Taking nine firsts and playing in practically all the events, the Denison team defeated the University of Cincinnati at Cincinnati in the second meet of the year 68½ to 62½. In spite of the unfavorable weather the Big Red tracksters came through in fine shape and won a meet that was undecided until the finish of the relay. Speicher was the high scorer for Denison and his fine running in the final lap of the relay was the feature of the meet.

Combining strategy with speed the well-balanced track squad from Miami administered to the Big Red its first defeat of the season on Deeds field. The meet was one of the best ever held before a Denison crowd. Every Denison man fought to the last and several of them outdid their own records, but the downstaters seemed a shade better. The final score was 92 to 39. Captain Powell took the only first for his team by winning the two mile event.

The fourth meet went to Wooster when the Denison squad journeyed North. Spinning in the 880 and Swigart in the broad jump were the best athletes of the Bolesman coached outfit. Denison took another step toward the development of good athletics in Licking County that week also by holding the Licking County scholastic meet on Deeds field. More than two hundred athletes from the schools around Granville took part in the meet.

Running on a rain soaked track, swept by a chilling breeze, Denison's trackmen went down to defeat before the superior work of Oberlin's cinder artists 86 to 44 in a duel meet at Oberlin. Oberlin took twelve firsts and almost enough thirds to double the score. Trescott, Hla, and Gabele won Denison's only first places.

Gabele was the high point man for Denison in the annual Big Six meet which was held in Granville. He was awarded the Jordon Cup for being the highest local scorer. Seven other tracksters of the Big Red team helped to garner the counters that gave Denison fourth place after the hottest competition of the season. Kenney was second on the Denison team in the matter of scoring.

In the final dual meet of the year Denison defeated Otterbein 69 to 62. It was a close affair all the way but the Big Red would not be denied and they forged to the front late in the contest.

Two college records were broken during the season. Ralph Gabele cleared 22 feet 6½ inches in the broad jump, bettering the old mark by almost a foot. Gibson added three feet to the previous discus record when he hurled the disk 119 feet and 2 inches.

LADY TUM 1925

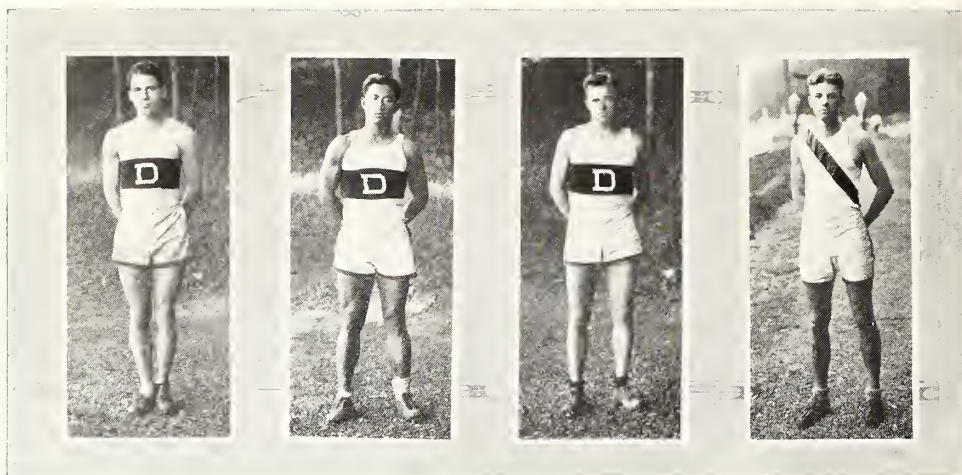

Gibson, Powell, Bishop, Speicher.

GIBSON—Proved to be a weight man of ability. He could put the shot, hurl the discus, or throw the javelin equally well and he easily earned his letter in track by consistent work. He established a new discus record when he hurled the disk three feet past the former mark which was made by J. H. Miller.

CAPTAIN POWELL—Star two miler of the track team was one of Denison's hardest athletes. He was a consistent runner and a reliable point winner in the distance event. He was a hard worker as well as a good leader and his career as a captain was a successful one.

BISHOP—Was another of the stars that came up from the sophomore class. He was a versatile trackster, competing in the 100, 220 and the quarter, the relay and both the hurdle races. He was a fast finisher and many of his points may be attributed to his final sprint which was disconcerting to his opponents.

SPEICHER—Easily won his letter as a 440 man. He ran not only the quarter mile but he was a member of the relay team and entered the 220. He was a consistent runner and trained faithfully. In the Cincinnati meet he was at his best and featured the meet by his wonderful running in the quarter.

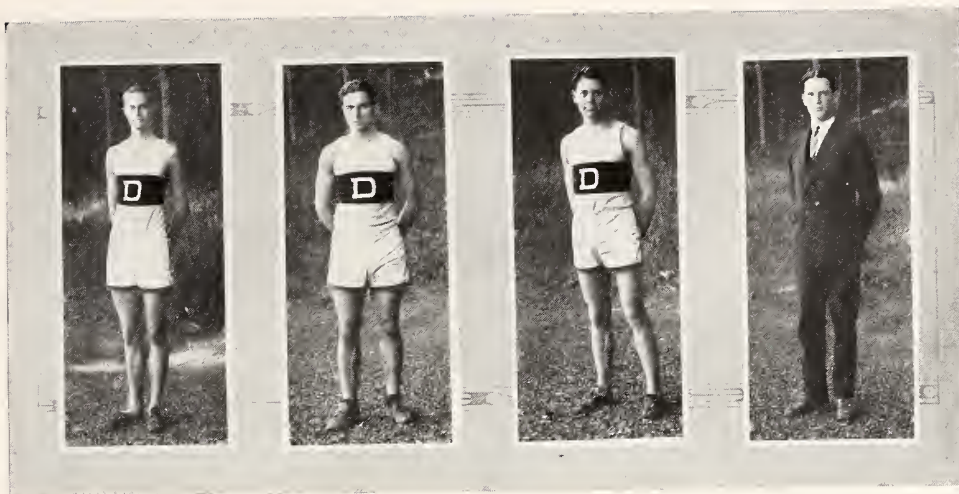

GABELE—Broke the college running broad jump record and won the Jordon Cup as high point winner in the Big Six. He was one of the most consistent scorers on the team and was only defeated once. Perry was forced to set a new record in the Big Six to beat Gabele, who broke the college record in his second jump in that meet. He has one more year ahead of him.

HLA—Won his letter by consistent work with the javelin and the discus. He took several firsts and placed in the Big Six in his first year as a regular member of the Denison track team. In addition to competing in these two events on the track program he pitched on the baseball team and in spite of the fact that he divided his time between the two he made a good showing.

W. HUFFMAN—Was another of the versatile athletes of the sophomore class. He pole vaulted, threw the javelin and put the shot. Leaving school at the end of his sophomore year his loss will be keenly felt by the track team, for he was one of the outstanding prospects in the pole vault for the coming seasons.

CAPTAIN-ELECT ABERNETHY—Not only won his letter in his sophomore year, but he also lowered his brother's time in the 220 yard low hurdle event and established a record which he still holds. In his junior year he again showed up well and captured several firsts besides placing in the 1st Annual Ohio Relays.

BASH—Is a long winded distance runner who can hold out a killing pace which is disconcerting to his opponents. The mile run is his speciality, but he also goes equally well in the two mile event or in the cross country race. He is a veteran and should make a brilliant record in his last season with the Big Red.

TRESCOTT—Although only a midget he was capable of reaching great heights. Trescott held forth in the pole vault and generally gave all opponents a hard run for first place in that event. It was his first year of competition, but he took care of his event in fine style and finished a successful season.

KENNEY—Starred in the half-mile and he developed rapidly throughout the season. He stepped into the shoes of Masters early in the season when that veteran left the squad and he more than satisfied the fans with his performance in the half-mile and the relay. He placed in the Big Six and was one of the outstanding runners on the team.

JONES—As manager took care of the tracksters in fine manner and he was always a faithful guardian of their interests. He was on hand early and late and the members of the track team found him ever ready to help.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Big Red harriers, although they pushed their opponents to the limit in every race, failed to come through with a win during the 1924 season. The team was hampered somewhat by weather conditions, but improved as the season progressed and lost by small margins to some of the best teams in the conference.

The initial meet went to Oberlin, then champions of the conference, 10-26. The second race was lost 16-22 at Cincinnati. The team placed fifth in the Ohio Conference at the annual O. I. A. A. meet in Delaware. The final race was the best of the year. Wooster won this, however, 17-19, after a hard battle.

CAPTAIN SCHILLER

BASEBALL 1924

The 1924 season of the Denison University baseball team can be summed up in the one word defeat. Inexperienced material and bad weather conditions coupled with the absence of dependable pitchers tells the story of an almost victoryless schedule.

Coach Jenkins built a typical Big Red machine, one that fought hard all the way, but it was unable to come out on top against a conference foe. The scores show that the team worked hard and consistently and that in several games they played streaks of good baseball only to lose by a small margin. The nine showed steady improvement throughout the season and they wound up the year with a win over the Alumni.

In the majority of the games unsteady pitching together with infield errors allowed the opposition one big inning and margin enough to win.

Captain Schiller led the hitters with a .419 average. He was closely followed by Sebald and Petty.

TENNIS REVIEW 1924

Although not a success, from the standpoint of victories, the tennis season of 1924 was featured by some of the best contests ever played on the local courts. The quartet of clay-court stars displayed a fine brand of tennis and some great individual playing during the latter part of the season but only once were they able to win the necessary number of sets to decide a match in their favor.

Unfavorable weather made practice almost impossible during the greater part of the season. Meeting Ohio State the Denison net machine was forced to accept the short end of a 5-1 score, although they surprised Big Red followers by forcing the Scarlet and Gray racquetters to play wide-awake tennis all the way to win.

However in the second match the Big Red team hit its stride and walloped Oberlin 5-1. Then they tied Wooster, lost to the strong Muskingum team, and to Wesleyan by 5-1 counts. Wooster staged a comeback in the return meet and defeated the Granville players 4-2. Muskingum was forced to be content with a tie, in one of the best matches of the season on the Shepardson courts, the following week. Then in the final contest Wesleyan took the long end of a 4-2 score.

JONES—As a newcomer on the team, proved to be one of the best tennisers uncovered here in some time. He improved rapidly throughout the season and looks like a comer. He will have two more seasons in which to perfect his strokes, and he should be one of the mainstays of the team during the next two campaigns.

BARKER—Proved to be one of the best singles players in the Ohio circuit and he held his own with all opponents. He led the team in his Junior year also and in his final season with the Big Red he again showed brilliant form. He was a finalist in the State tournament. The Stockum-Barker doubles combination was one of the best Denison has ever had.

CAPTAIN STOCKUM—Led the team in fine fashion and set a good example for his teammates by consistent playing. His good work won for him the presidency of the Ohio Inter-Collegiate Tennis Association. His work merited his re-election as Captain for his final year in Denison athletics.

HUNDLEY—In his first year as a Denison racquet wielder, played consistently all season, and always gave his opponent a hard battle. Although he was not a flashy exponent of the Tilden game, he easily won enough matches to make his letter. He also has another year with the Big Red.

DENISON INTRA-MURALS

The outdoor fraternity track meet held April 23, 1924, was won by the Phi Delt, who took more than half the first places. They amassed a total of 59½ points. The Denison Common's Club came next with 55 markers.

Field Day was won by the class of 1927 when they emerged victors by an eight point margin over their chief opponent the sophomores. The first year men counted a total of 78 points. Heinrich was the star.

The volleyball league championship for 1924 went to the Kappa Sigs after one of the closest fights ever staged by Denison volliers.

To the Betas went the indoor baseball championship. In the final contest of the season they nosed out the Lambda Chis 4-3 in a truly great game, and annexed the plaque.

The class baseball championship went to the class of 1927 which proved the superior combination after several weeks of competition.

Scrap day in the fall of 1925 was won by the class of 1927 in spite of the fact that the sophomores were greatly outnumbered. The winners took all three events.

The speedball championship in the inter-fraternity league was won by the Phi Gams who were victorious in the tie game with the Betas after the two teams had gone through the season undefeated.

The Denison Commons Club won the 1925 indoor inter-group track meet with a high score of 51 points. Kappa Sigma was second with 30 counters. Heinrich was the high point man.

The Freshman class forfeited the second indoor meet of the season to the class of 1927.

Team "C", of the independent basketball league, led by Tilton, easily won the independent championship and finished the season undefeated.

The team representing the class of 1926 won the 1925 class basketball championship by defeating the Freshmen 29 to 26 in a post-season contest.

The Beta five won the Major League Inter-Fraternity basketball championship with an unblemished record. The Phi Delt were runners-up.

The Kappa Sig five won the Minor League plaque by defeating the Denison Common's Club in a heated battle 17 to 10. The final standing of the winners was unmarred by a single defeat.

Women's

Section

The women of Shepardson College were fortunate in having Miss Helen Barr as director of the Department of Physical Education the past year. Miss Barr is a graduate of Wellesley and the University of Wisconsin and has been connected with the Physical Education Departments of Northwestern and the Universities of Minnesota and California. Upon assuming the duties of her position Miss Barr immediately reorganized the department in courses and methods. Not only that, but it was through her efforts that the gymnasium and swimming pool were entirely renovated, the office redecorated, and many long-needed improvements were made. Miss Barr also lent her cooperation toward making the annual Field Meets in the spring and fall, and the Gymnastic Meet, successes. She has proved herself an excellent coach and an able instructor and during the past year has built up the department in a fashion that spells success and merits the sincere gratitude and admiration of all those who come under her direction.

The department has been proud to have Miss Louise Darrow, one of our own Shepardson women, as assistant instructor this year. Miss Darrow attended Rockford College for two years, and graduated from Denison with the class of 1924, following up her work with a post-graduate course at Columbia. As a student, Miss Darrow starred on many class teams and was a member of W. A. A. and D. U. This experience together with her knowledge of the problems and needs of our department has made her an invaluable assistant, and her personality and spirit of cooperation have won the hearts of all the girls. Miss Darrow deserves much credit for the success of the first year in her chosen work.

The Women's Athletic Association is connected with the Department of Physical Education of Shepardson College, and it provides an opportunity for all women who excel in athletics to become members. The uniform point system of the National Athletic Conference of American College Women, of which the local organization is a member, is used, and upon earning one hundred points membership becomes automatic. Points are awarded for playing on a class team, for winning an individual championship, for hiking, dancing, and apparatus honors. The W. A. A. stimulates a keen interest in all branches of athletics, creates class rivalry, and develops a high standard of efficiency, and a spirit of sportsmanship.

SOCCKER 1924

Soccer was introduced to Shepardson women for the first time last spring, and was a popular sport from the first. Carlista McMinn was head of the sport, and good teams were recruited from the Freshman and Sophomore classes, with Miss Chesney as coach. Games were played on Beaver Field, and the class of 1926 was the champion.

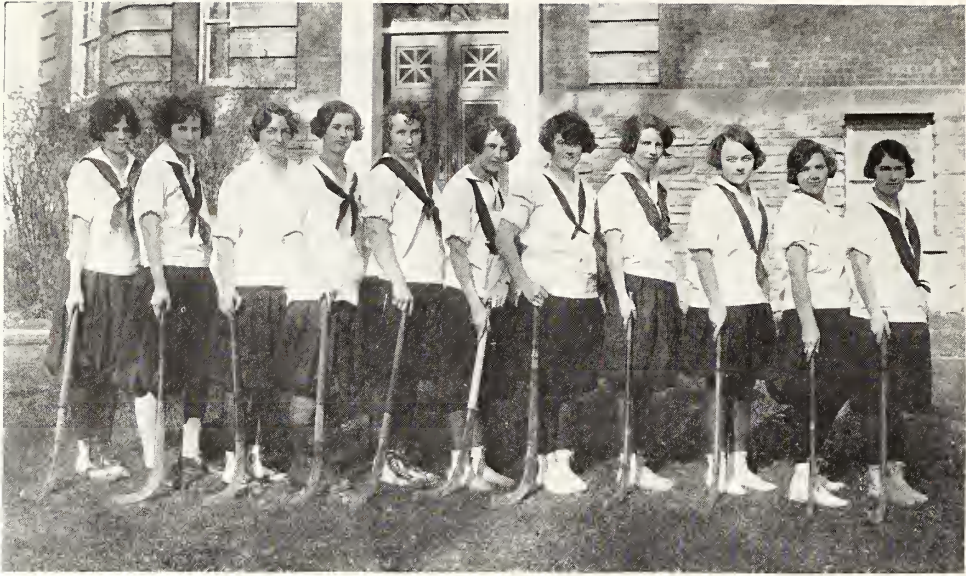

The All-Shepardson team was as follows: Jean Gordon, Ruth Gobel, Edyth Hulet, Marian Peterson, Lela Lusk, Florence Smalley, Naomi Bogart, Alice McCann, Carlista McMinn, Dorothy Quayle, and Julia McConaughy.

TRACK 1924

Track in the spring of 1924 was very popular, with Miss Chesney as coach, and Marian Canright as head of the sport. All events, including shot-put, javelin, discus, broad jump, high jump, hop-step-and-jump, dash, and relay were held on Beaver Field, and the winning class was the class of 1927.

The All-Shepardson team was made up of the five high-point girls, who were Margaret Chamberlain, Lois Lusk, Katherine Hall, Dorothy Darrow, and Dorothea Bawden.

HOCKEY 1924

Hockey is by far the most popular fall sport, and every afternoon during the season, the teams were out practicing on Beaver Field. Miss Barr coached the teams, and Felicie Thresher as head of the sport was successful in securing the cooperation of the classes, and arranging the games. On Field Day the class of 1927 carried away the honors.

The following girls won places on the All-Shepardson team: Josephine Deeds, Virginia Myers, Jean Gordon, Felicie Thresher, Betty Roudebush, Naomi Bogart, Juanita Jones, Florence Smalley, Anne Wright, and Bertha Adams.

ARCHERY 1924

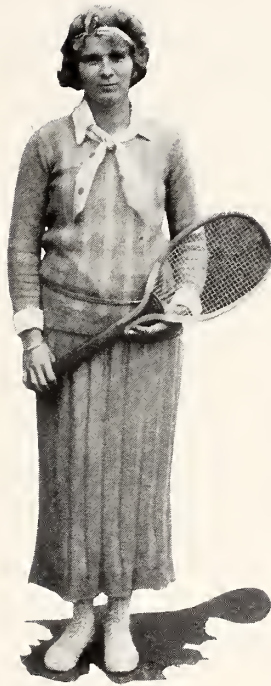

Archery appeals to many of the girls, and bright fall days will find them on Shepardson campus with their bows and arrows, striving to perfect their technique. This sport develops grace as well as physical prowess, and has the advantage of being less strenuous than most of the other sports. Miss Darrow supervised the sport, and Mildred Alexander as head of the sport enlisted the interest of the girls. The class of 1928 was the winner on Field Day.

The All-Shepardson archery team was as follows: Mildred Alexander, Helen French, Helen Hart, and Gertrude Band.

BASKETBALL 1925

Basketball, the major winter sport, was even more popular than usual this season and large numbers of the girls took advantage of the practice periods. The teams were ably coached by Miss Barr, and the class games were refereed by Miss Palmer of the Department of Physical Education of Ohio State University. Florence Smalley was head of the sport. The class of 1927 was the champion in the intra-murals and was undefeated throughout the season.

The All-Shepardson team was made up as follows: Betty Price and Dorothy Darrow, centers; Jean Gordon and Florence Smalley, forwards; Katherine Hall and Evelyn Pease, guards.

TENNIS 1924

Much credit is due Dorothy Dewey, head of the sport, for enlisting the interest of the girls in tennis last spring. Miss Chesney supervised the sport, and a large number signed up for the tournament. The games were played off the first week in June and by a process of elimination, Frances Chamberlin won out as individual champion. Honors went to the class of 1924, and the All-Shepardson team was made up of Frances Chamberlin and Ruth Hovey, the champion of the previous year.

SWIMMING 1925

Frances White, head of the sport, created much enthusiasm for swimming this winter and a large number of girls signed up for it. Miss Darrow as instructor was very successful, and toward the close of the season class teams were chosen. At the Swimming Meet on March 19, the class of 1928 was victor and Louise Raymond, Freshman, was the individual champion. The events included plunge for distance, breast stroke, side stroke, trudgeon, crawl, back stroke, float, diving, relay, and free-for-all. The All-Shepardson team was made up of Louise Raymond, Felicie Thresher, champion of last year, Dorothy Brown and Ruth Jones.

D. U. ASSOCIATION

It is the desire of every girl, when she becomes a member of W. A. A. to also be a D. U. But few achieve this distinction, for many are the weary hours which must be spent on the practice field and in the gymnasium before one is able to accumulate the eight hundred points necessary for the black D. U., and the thousand points for the red D. U. Factors other than mere physical skill, such as posture, sportsmanship, and strict observance of training rules have an important bearing on one's election to the D. U. Association. The members enjoy many good times throughout the year such as the annual banquet, and a week-end house party in the spring. The officers of the organization this year have been Elizabeth Albaugh, president and Margaret Chamberlain, secretary.

Red D. U.

Margaret Chamberlain, Florence Smalley, Juanita Jones, Florence Jamieson, Betty Albaugh, Dorothy Dewey, Dorothy Baker and Josephine Maxwell.

Black D. U.

Annetta Lang, Felicie Thresher, Harriet Belt, Louise Biefeld and Louise Darrow.

THE YALE-HARVARD GAME

Each year the Yale-Harvard game is the stellar event of the Shepardson basketball season, and as the last game, affords an excellent opportunity for the students to see the star players of Shepardson in a highly exciting game. The players are picked from the four classes at the close of the regular season. The game, this year, was played on the evening of March 19, and Doane gymnasium was crowded with enthusiastic rooters from both colleges, the faculty, and the townspeople. The gym was appropriately decorated with Yale and Harvard banners, and with blue and red streamers. Clever stunts were put on between halves by some of the Freshmen. Music was furnished by the Green Simps orchestra. The game was refereed by Miss Palmer of the Department of Physical Education of Ohio State University. Yale outplayed Harvard throughout the game, and the final score was 30-20 in favor of Yale. The teams were lined up as follows:

YALE: Dorothy Darrow, Norma Johnson, centers; sub, Grace Bumer; Jean Gordon, Edythe Hulet, forwards, sub, Naomi Bogart; Katherine Hall, Lucy McNall, guards, sub, Elma Bruce.

Representatives

From the moment a freshman puts his foot upon the campus until he leaves college halls as a Senior prepared to enter the ranks of the "working multitude" he hears almost daily of college traditions. As he goes from class to class he is bound to become aware that his environment is directing, molding, and stamping his life. But, what is this stamp of Denison? Can we recognize it?

Believing the answer to be found in the lives of those who are graduating, the 1925 Adytum, through the medium of a faculty committee, has endeavored to find the three most outstanding and truly representative men of Granville College. A similar ballot was taken to determine the most representative women in Shepardson College.

In the opinion of the committee and the editors, the students selected represent the all-around development that Denison offers to all who enter its domain. Years ago we heard "Who is a true born Englishman?", let us paraphrase it, who is a true Denisonian? Here is our answer, and it is the hope of the 1925 Adytum that this custom will be perpetuated by each succeeding Adytum generation.

Activities

Smith, Folger, Smith, Folger.

When Coach Imhoff called for Debate candidates at the beginning of the season he was besieged by five enthusiastic aspirants each sure he was the season's find. After a gruelling series of tryouts four speakers were chosen to represent the school on the platform.

The team was strong individually. Mr. Smith was a forceful speaker and invaluable in research work. Miss Folger was of great aid in presenting the finer and more sympathetic side of the question. Mr. Smith was a forceful speaker and invaluable in research work. Miss Folger was of great aid in presenting the finer and more sympathetic side of the question.

The proposition for debate was: "Should Phi Gamma Delta be Abolished."

SHEPHERDSON WRESTLING TEAM

Special privilege should be given the valiant heroes pictured above, for after many seasons of active competition the Woman's Student Jail System has given formal recognition to this popular sport, which until now has been conducted on the extra-curricular basis. From the meagre reports obtainable a successful spring campaign was completed by request.

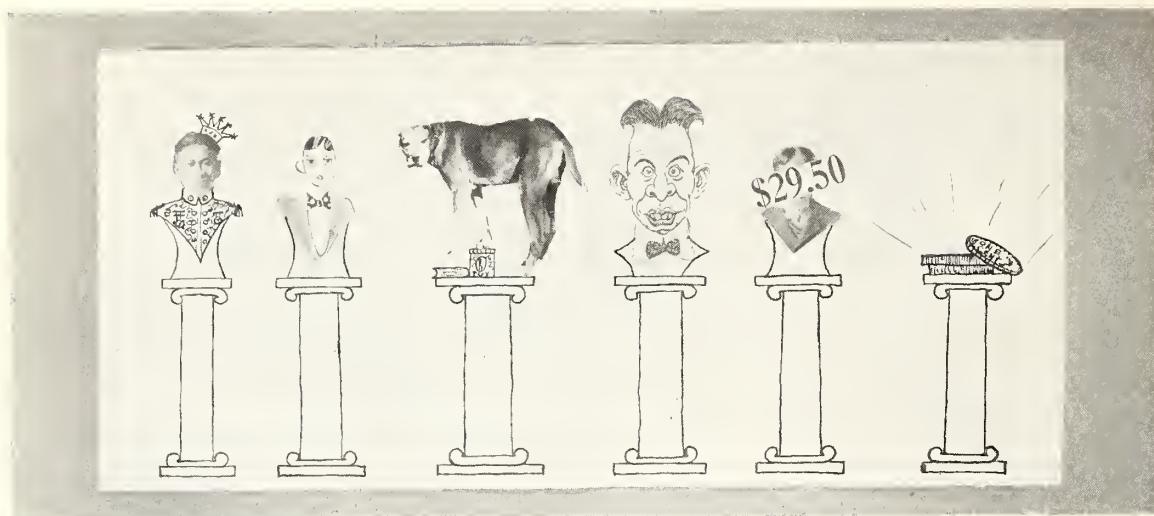

Let us all give a hand to those members of any team which are an important cog in the mechanism but never share in the glory, the applause or the honor, although they labor night after night over the athletes. Here's to the trainers from Granville College.

(*Ineligible for season for holding.)

DENISON BASEBALL TEAM

Under the high moral coaching and righteous guidance of Doc. France the Big Pink ballers went through a characteristic season meeting the best teams in the conference and made more errors than any team they met despite the fact they were frequently known to get as far as second base. Toward the end of the year hopes were high when playing the Old Ladies Home from Xenia. It was the 8th inning, the locals had made only 9 errors and the Wimmin' had scored only 38 runs. All hopes for a win were blasted when Pirsch dropped a fly and let in 19 more runs.

This school has gained note for being the largest university in Gambier, a thriving city of 329 persons (counting Mrs. Jones, who is going to move in the fall).

An ideal school for boys with high morals and big pocketbooks. The tone of this school is high, having taken its pitch from a virtuous tenor.

Dances are smoothest in seven counties, for everything from the slide trombone to the purest lady in the town is well oiled.

Degrees granted include B. H. (bachelor of haberdashery), B. L. (bachelor of liquor), and M. W. (master of women).

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT OUR SERVICE

"Do it Electrically"

What "Kilowatt Hour" Means

Butter is sold by the pound. Eggs are sold by the dozen. Gingham is sold by the yard. Electricity is sold by the kilowatt hour, which is just a term of measurement.

For example: If a 25-watt lamp in a lighting fixture burns 40 hours during the month, your electric meter will register 25 times 40, or 1,000 watt hours—which is 1 kilowatt hour. If you use a 500-watt electric iron for two hours, the meter will register 500 times 2 or 1,000 watt hours, which is 1 kilowatt hour.

Multiply the number of kilowatt hours registered by the rate per kilowatt hour and you have the amount of your electric light bill.

Learn to Read Your Meter

It will remove much of the mystery and enable you to know in advance just what your bill will be. We will gladly explain the process at our office.

How to Know Things About Our Service

WHAT KILLOWAT HOUR MEANS

Hay is sowed on the ground. Eggs are layed by hens. Gingham is sold for cloth. Electricity is sold by the kilowat hour which is just what it is sold by.

For example, a candle burns 32 hours per day. That means that if you use a flat iron for three hours your meter will read which is more than many children can do in three weeks.

Multiply the number of the course by the times you have bucked and you will find your approximate grade providing of course you know that the instructor takes roll. If he does not and you know he does not then why learn about our service?

LEARN TO READ YOUR BILLS

It will remove much of the mystery surrounding the charge for incidentals and lab fees. We will be pleased to explain all we know about everything at our office. It will take but a short time.

Retrospect

Like a silvery sky at dusk stirs the recesses of true appreciation, so the consummation of a year's task summons sincere gratitude for all who have contributed to the completion of the work.

To Mr. E. R. Adler of The Canton Engraving Company whose interest and suggestions have smoothed many problematic wrinkles, we are indeed grateful. To Mr. W. E. Seeley and Mr. W. A. Schafer of The Judson Printing Company for their many courtesies, and guidance in the make-up, we are indebted. To Mr. M. H. Mueller for his photography service and art judgments, we wish to express a sincere appreciation.

As the book is completed and we slip the final period into place, it is not with an air of finality, nor with a feeling of unsurpassable success, but with that satisfaction which comes only from honest labor coupled with the knowledge that we have given our best.
